WAGES OF GRAND TRUNK EMPLOYEES

BOARD OF CONCILIATION SUBMITS REPORT

Rate of Pay in Many Instances
Fair and Reasonable Makes Suggestions

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—The board of conciliation named by the labor department to adjust the disputes between the Grand Trunk Railway Company and its machinists has made a report, in part as follows:

"Owing to the system of payment which prevails on the Grand Trunk and which has been fully explained to us, a majority of the board does not see how it is possible for the company to lay down any schedule of minimum rate without disclosing the system which has as its basis payment according to merit and qualification of individual workmen based upon the judgment of his foreman. The evidence, however, satisfies us that owing to the increased cost of living since 1907 increases which have been granted in the rates of pay of the men have not in a number of instances, kept pace with the necessities of the men, while in other instances the rates of pay seem to be fair and reasonable. A majority of the board strongly recommends, therefore, that master mechanics take up with their foreman at the earliest possible moment individual cases in various shops and round-houses where lower rates of wages obtain and should make advance in pay according to merit and qualification of the individual workman. The pressure of the increased cost of living will be relieved by an advance in remuneration."

A majority of the board are glad to report that the superintendent of motive power expresses himself as anxious to do everything possible to meet the wishes of his men. The system of individual merit, while productive of much good in its result, is open to criticism that the less efficient do not obtain all advantages which would accrue to them under a general fixed minimum.

"A majority of the board award that the rules remain in force and that in our opinion the rates of pay should be advanced in a number of individual instances. Mr. Donoghue is of opinion that the men are entitled to have their grievances presented through a committee and that a minimum rate on a par with that in force on other Canadian roads should be established."

This would give to the men an increase of wages that would in some measure compensate for the increased cost of living. He is also of the opinion that double time should be paid for overtime from midnight to 5 a. m. and that apprentices should share in the increase above mentioned. The board was constituted as follows: J. C. Teetzel, chairman; Wallace Nesbitt, representing the company; J. G. O'Donoghue, representing the men.

LIBERTE EXPLOSION.

Commissioner Submits Report Regarding Destruction of French Battleship.

Paris, Oct. 24.—The commission appointed to inquire into the cause of the explosion that wrecked the French battleship Liberte at Toulon, on September 25 last, has completed its report.

The commission finds that the explosion was not the result of an outbreak of fire, but was due to the ignition of a cannon cartridge, although exactly what caused the ignition has not been established.

ROSSLAND SCHOOL TEACHER DISAPPEARS

Miss Maude Bruce Sets Out on Hunting Trip and Cannot Be Found.

Nelson, B. C., Oct. 24.—Parties of men and boys are scouring the mountains in the vicinity of Rossland in search of Miss Maude Bruce, sister of Leslie Bruce, principal of the public school at that city, who went out alone with the avowed object of hunting on Sunday morning and has not been seen or heard of since noon of that day. At noon Miss Bruce, who is the school teacher, was seen some miles up the mountain by Charles Williams, who asked her if she was about to return home. She replied that she was "going farther yet."

That is the last heard of the missing girl and all yesterday and up to a late hour last night, search parties trailed mile after mile over the thickly wooded mountains without finding any trace of her.

Her relatives are unable to advance any theories as to the reason for her disappearance.

YOUNG WOMAN'S DEATH A MYSTERY

ANOTHER INQUIRY TO BE INSTITUTED

Marks of Violence Found on the Body of Miss Violet
Smith

Toronto, Oct. 24.—There are marks of violence on the body of Miss Violet Smith, the 19-year-old Toronto public school teacher, who was found drowned a few days ago in the Shebashekon river at Dillonport. This new fact has been established since the body of the young woman was brought to Toronto by relatives and taken to the city morgue, Lombard street, where a second post-mortem was performed by Dr. Geo. W. Graham of Toronto, at which Chief Coroner Arthur J. Johnson, also of this city, was present.

"I have nothing to say about the case whatever," stated both the city doctors when questioned about the examination. They are keeping their own counsel on what they discovered, although a report is to be made to W. D. McPherson, K.C., who is a distant relative of the deceased and who is acting for the relatives. From the marks discovered on the body there is every indication that the investigations are far from being dropped and a new inquiry promises to be opened. Although the jury at Dillonport brought in a verdict that the young school teacher had committed suicide by drowning herself, a very different view of the matter is taken by the doctors and one of the girl's relatives.

The body was brought to this city from the Ferry Sound district yesterday and taken to the city morgue, when another thorough examination was made. The body is bruised and the bruises it is said, are not such as would be received by the body being washed around by the waters of the river in which she was found. These bruises are on the body and the opinion has been expressed that they were there before the body reached the water and the doctors rather scout the suicide theory.

Now that the marks of violence have been found on Miss Smith's body, the question is raised as to how she received them. It is stated that had she received these bruises before leaving her boarding house in the morning she would not doubt have said something about them. After leaving her boarding house on October 9th at 7 a. m., she was not seen alive again.

AMERICAN MINING CONGRESS.

Official Statement Regarding U. S. Government's Policy in Alaska Will Be Made.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—The fourteenth annual session of the American Mining Congress, which opened here to-day, will have for its chief feature a public announcement of the purposes of the administration concerning the vast untold coalfields of Alaska. President Taft and Secretary of the Interior Fisher will deliver addresses in which it is promised that the public policy with regard to the Alaskan fields will be outlined.

Representatives of foreign governments will also take part in the sessions. The governors will confer on public land problems, and accredited representatives of Mexico and Canada will explain the attitudes of their governments on mining questions where United States interests and those of their own governments overlap.

The session will continue over Saturday, President Taft's address on the last day being the closing feature.

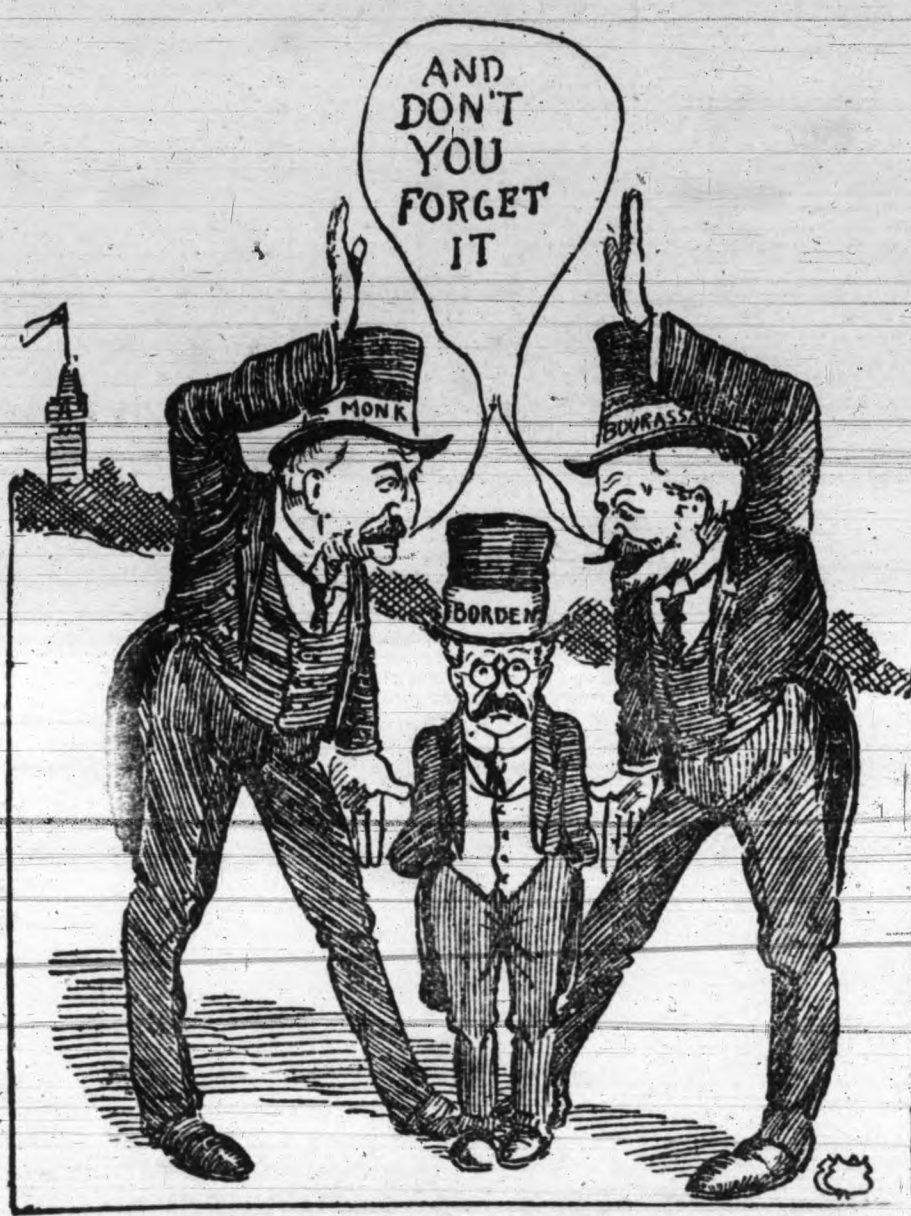

GROWTH OF TRADE OF THE DOMINION

Returns for Six Months Show
Increase of $40,000,000 Over
Same Period in 1910

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—The total trade of the Dominion for the first half of the current fiscal year has been $40,000,000, an increase of $40,000,000 over the first six months of last year. Imports for the six months totalled $23,406,094, an increase of $3,000,000. Exports of domestic products totalled $12,598,942, and for foreign products $12,557,773, increase respectively of $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. September's trade totalled $69,688,429, an increase of $2,330,000 over September of last year.

GOLD BARS STOLEN.

Berne, Switzerland, Oct. 24.—There has been a mysterious theft of bars of gold of a value of $24,000 which had been consigned to the Swiss National Bank by London houses. Eight cases of bars of gold having a total value of more than $200,000 were shipped from the British capital. When they reached here it was found that one of the cases had been emptied of its contents. Bars of lead had been substituted.

CHANGES MADE IN BRITISH CABINET

WINSTON CHURCHILL FIRST LORD OF ADMIRALTY

R. McKenna, Who Vacates
Post, Takes Portfolio as Home Secretary

London, Oct. 24.—The British cabinet has undergone an important reconstruction, rumors of which have been in circulation for some weeks past. The Right Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, Home Secretary, becomes First Lord of the Admiralty, while Hon. Reginald McKenna lays down the Admiralty portfolio to assume the Home Secretaryship.

Earl Carrington, president of the Board of Agriculture, becomes Lord of the Privy Seal. C. E. Hobhouse, financial secretary to the treasury, is appointed Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

Hon. Walter Runciman retires from the presidency of the Board of Education to become president of the board of agriculture, while the presidency of the board of education has been assumed by Hon. J. A. Pease, former chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster. Sir Edward Strachey, parliamentary secretary of the board of agriculture, and the Right Hon. Alfred Emmet, M. P. for Oldham, and deputy speaker of the House of Commons, have been promoted to peerages.

With the exception of the exchange of offices by Mr. Churchill and Mr. McKenna, the cabinet shuffle caused little comment.

The Unionists express fear that the change will enable the government to reduce the naval estimates. Mr. Churchill being considered one of the economists of the cabinet. The exchange, however, is more likely to have been due to parliamentary than to political causes. Both ministers have met with the disapproval of the laborites and the extreme radicals. Mr. Churchill by reason of the employment of troops during the strikes and Mr. McKenna because of a recent speech advocating a further increase in the naval expenditures. By the exchange both escape the necessity of replying to their critics.

LICENSE COMMISSIONER.

MAY BE IN SESSION FOR ONLY MONTH

Commons Will Probably Be Summoned Again for Latter Part of February

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—It is said to be practically settled that the session of parliament will sit for a little over a month and then be adjourned. The Commons will be called again for the latter part of February or early in March.

It is stated that the negotiations which have been in progress in regard to the election of ministers of the new government by acclamation and the return of Hon. Geo. P. Graham to the Commons unopposed, probably for South Renfrew, are still incomplete. Whether or not an agreement will be reached along these lines is still a matter of conjecture, but it would not be surprising if an understanding is arrived at. There is also talk of an arrangement being reached whereby there will be a saw-off of all election protests. No announcement is yet forthcoming as to what Ontario seat Hon. W. T. White, the new minister of finance, will sit for.

COPENHAGEN POLICE GUARD DR. COOK

Brooklyn Physician Escorted to Carriage Owing to Threatening
Attitude of Crowd

Copenhagen, Oct. 24.—Dr. Cook, who was so enthusiastically welcomed here after his alleged discovery of the North Pole, two years ago, arrived here yesterday, accompanied by his wife.

Owing to the threatening attitude of the crowd Cook was escorted to his carriage by a detachment of police. The mob followed, cheering and hooting. The explorer said he had given up his projected European lecture tour and would lecture only in this city.

The newspapers denounce him, some of them recommending demonstrations of disapproval at his lecture.

FINANCIER DEAD.

New York, Oct. 24.—Robert Mather, chairman of the board of directors of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company and director of many railroads and banks, died at his residence here at 5:30 o'clock this morning, after a short illness.

FOUR THOUSAND KILLED OR WOUNDED

BENGHAZI BOMBARDED BY ITALIAN FLEET

British Consulate Damaged—
Consul Among Injured—
Church Destroyed

Malta, Oct. 24.—In letters received here from Benghazi, Tripoli, the writers estimate the casualties among the inhabitants resulting from the bombardment by the Italian fleet at 4,000.

The British consulate was badly damaged and Consul John Francis Jones was wounded. Several Jews who were British subjects and had taken refuge in the British consulate, were killed or wounded. Numerous buildings, including a Maltese church, were destroyed. Eight Maltese were killed and ten wounded, it is said.

The correspondents add that wild panic prevailed in the city.

Other Reports.

London, Oct. 24.—The correspondents of the London Times and other English papers at Tripoli, have been reporting by way of Malta that the affair at Benghazi was much more serious than the Italian censorship had permitted to be made known.

YUKON ELECTION.

Dr. Alfred Thompson, Conservative, Elected For House of Commons.

Dawson, Y. T., Oct. 24.—Dr. Alfred Thompson, Conservative candidate, was elected yesterday over F. T. Congdon, his Liberal opponent, for the federal House. Dr. Thompson polled 1,125, while Mr. Congdon polled 736 votes. Mr. Congdon carried only Grand Forks and Bear. Nine small polls still to hear from will increase the majority for Dr. Thompson.

ACCUSED OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 24.—Henry B. Clark, who was arrested in New York last night for embezzlement in this city, was manager of the Bank of New Brunswick up to a few months ago, when he disappeared and it became known that he was $30,000 short. It is said that Clark lost heavily speculating in cotton.

PHILADELPHIA WINS FOURTH GAME OF SERIES

Athletics Defeat Giants By Score of Four Runs to Two—Have Now Lead of Two Games For World's Championship.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 24.—Tens of thousands of baseball fans were made happy to-day when they saw the clear weather for the much-postponed fourth game between the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Nationals for the championship of the world. There was no "flare-back" of the weather of the last six days and after an enforced rest of a week the two champion ball teams will meet on Shibe park field at 2 p. m.

The playing field is still somewhat heavy but its condition is as good as a big squad of men could make it. Groundkeeper Schroder had a force of men at work most of the night filling up the holes and hardening the surface. Schroder announced this morning after he saw the sun come up, that the field would be in good shape by the time the game is to start.

While the day is fine, it is more fit for football than for baseball. There was a brisk wind blowing from the north which had a rip in it and made topcates very comfortable.

At 8 a. m. the government weather bureau thermometer registered 59 degrees with the prospect that it will grow very little warmer.

Before 1 o'clock there were several hundred in line at Shibe park waiting for the bleacher gates to open. The line grew larger every minute and by the time the gates were opened, shortly after 3 o'clock, there were about 2,000 persons congregated about the entrances. All reserved seats were sold before the first game was played a week ago yesterday and another crowd that will tax the capacity of the big grounds will no doubt be on hand when the play begins.

Both teams are in fit condition for the game. The week's rest has lined up the men who were on the verge of staleness and has enabled the pitchers to get back their strength. The injuries inflicted on Frank Baker by outfielder Snodgrass of New York are healed and will give the third baseman no trouble to-day. The "Charley-horse" that first baseman Merkle of New York has been carrying is also better.

The battery for to-day are Mathewson and Meyers for New York and Bender and Thomas for Philadelphia.

The series now stand two victories for Philadelphia to one for New York. The baseball experts declare that to-day's game is more important to New York than to Philadelphia. Should Philadelphia win they would have to get only one more victory to capture the championship while New York would have to take three games straight. A victory for New York to-day would place them on an even footing and greatly strengthen the confidence of the team.

The batting order follows:
New York—Devore, 1.f.; Doyle, 2.b.; Snodgrass, c. f.; Murray, r.f.; Merkle, 1.b.; Herzog, 3.b.; Fletcher, ss.; Meyers, c.; Mathewson, p.
Philadelphia—Lord, 1.f.; Oldring, c.f.; Collins, 2.b.; Baker, 3.b.; Murphy, r.f.; Davis, 1.b.; Barry, ss.; Thomas, c.; Bender, p.

The bleachers began filling rapidly after 10 o'clock and as large a crowd as saw the first game here a week ago yesterday is expected. The police to-day ordered men down from all the stands on roofs of the houses surrounding the grounds. These stands were so crowded at the last game that the authorities feared an accident.

TWO INJURED IN FIRE AT TRAIL

Hotels and Grocery Destroyed—
Believed to Have Been
Work of Incendiary

Nelson, B. C., Oct. 24.—The Central hotel, Goddu Brothers' grocery and the old Klondike hotel at Trail were destroyed by fire which spread so rapidly that the residents of the hotel and rooms over the store were forced to escape in their nightclothes.

William Munroe and Richard Ker-mode, guests at the hotel, were severely burned in making their escape. The heat was so intense that only the liberal use of water saved the buildings across the street and the Crown Point hotel was threatened several times.

The estimated loss is $10,000, with $3,500 insurance. The Klondike hotel and Goddu grocery are a complete loss, but the greater part of the furniture in the Central hotel was saved. The cause of the fire is a mystery. The fire was first discovered secretly between the hotel and grocery, having started from the bottom of the buildings, incineration being suspected.

24.—Clear, cool weather, with a brisk wind from the northwest, making overcasts necessary, was the weather conditions when the fourth game between Philadelphia and New York for the world's championship began at 3 o'clock to-day. The crowds that filled the stand and bleachers and overflowed into the field was slower in arriving to-day than they were when the last game was played here a week ago. The cool weather kept many of the spectators away until the last minute.

The Athletics defeated the New York Giants by the score of 4 to 2.

The American League champions outplayed their opponents in all points of the game. They hit Mathewson harder than he had ever been batted in a world's championship game. The hits came when they meant runs.

Bender, on the other hand, pitched a steady, effective game throughout in no inning, except the first, were the Giants able to bunt their hits.

In the opening inning the Giants scored their only runs on a single, a triple and an infield out. After this inning they gathered five hits.

The local team started on Mathewson in the second inning when Murphy and Barry each singled.

The Waterloo came in the fourth inning when successive doubles by Baker, Murphy and Davis and infield outs netted three runs. This seemed to unnerve the wonderful Mathewson and he was not the same steady, deceptive pitcher that the Athletics have batted against in the other games.

Mathewson retired in the eighth inning to allow Becker to bat for him and Wiltse finished the game with one hit being scored against him.

The game by innings follows:

First Inning.

New York—Devore reached first on an infield single. Bender diverting the course of the ball but was too late for Barry to handle. Doyle drove the first ball pitched to right centre for a triple, scoring Devore. On Snodgrass fly to Lord, Doyle scored. The New York rooters made the stadium shake with their yells. Murray was retired at first. Davis unscored. Merkle struck out on three pitched balls. Two runs, two hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Lord fanned on three balls, the first one being a foul. Oldring struck out. Mathewson had struck both men out on seven pitched balls. Collins singled to centre. Baker was given a rousing welcome when he came to bat. Mathewson and Meyers held a conference and it looked as though they intended to pass him. Baker struck out on a wide one. Mathewson was pitching pretty ball, having struck out three of the Athletics' hardest hitters. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning.

New York—Herzog lifted a fly to Oldring. Fletcher drove a single over Barry's head, his first hit of the series. Meyers' high fly dropped safely between Baker, Bender and Thomas, but Fletcher was thrown out at second. Thomas to Collins. Mathewson rolled an easy ground to Bender and was retired at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Philadelphia—Murphy drove the ball over the temporary bleachers in right field for two bases. Murphy took a long lead off second and Mathewson in attempting to catch him made a wild throw to Fletcher, Murphy taking third. Davis dropped an easy one in front of the plate and was thrown out. (Concluded on page 18.)

R. E. YOUNG FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED

Chief Dominion Geographer
Passes Away From Heart
Failure

Ottawa, Oct. 24.—R. E. Young, chief Dominion geographer and superintendent of railway lands was found dead in bed early this morning. Lying open beside him was a life of Gladstone, which deceased had been reading when he expired of heart failure.

Mr. Young had been in good health and worked till six o'clock last night, retiring at the usual hour. He was formerly provincial land surveyor for both Manitoba and British Columbia governments and was well known all over the Dominion. Mr. Young made a special survey of the entire city of Winnipeg when Toronto's title system was introduced.

OBITUARY RECORD

Mrs. Mary Ann Richardson, a resident of this city since the days of '68, passed away at her residence, 115 Government street, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Richardson was widely known in this city, and the news of her death will bring grief to many, and particularly to those few surviving pioneers with whom she commenced her life in Victoria. She was 74 years of age. Mrs. Richardson came to the coast from her birthplace, Dartmouth, Kent, England, at the age of 21. From the Southern Pacific Coast she came to Victoria on the Princess Royal. She was a companion voyageur of Mrs. Alexander Munro, another pioneer of this city. Beside her husband, George Richardson, five daughters, Mrs. J. C. McClure, Mrs. F. Elworthy, Mrs. James Porter, Mrs. B. Boggs and Miss Edith Richardson, of this city, and one son, G. A. Richardson, survive. Mrs. Richardson also leaves four sisters, Mrs. Edward Paes, of England; Mrs. James McCurdy, of Seattle, and Mrs. H. Mansell and Mrs. James Ure, of Victoria, and two brothers, J. and T. Parker, both residing at Rocky Point, Vancouver Island. The funeral will take place from the family residence, Thursday, at 2 1/2 o'clock, and at 2:30 from the Reformed Episcopal church, where services will be conducted by the Rev. T. W. Gladstone. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The death occurred at the St. Joseph's hospital this morning of Edward Hodges, 54 years of age. Deceased was a native of Ontario, and came to Victoria many years ago. He was well known here. The remains are reposing at the B. C. Funeral-Publishing parlors, pending funeral arrangements.

The funeral of the late Andrew Howlett took place from the Hanna & Thomson chapel this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. W. C. Drann. The pallbearers were: H. Temple, J. Heatley, R. Mackie and W. H. Corkish. A number of beautiful floral offerings were received from the former fellow employees of the deceased. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The funeral of the late Albert Avarad Sears has been arranged to take place to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 from the residence of Mrs. J. E. Phillips, 824 View street.

ELECTRIC RATES TO BE REDUCED

City Council Asked to Request B. C. E. R. to Fulfill Terms of Agreement

The price of current to consumers by the B. C. E. R. will come under discussion this evening when at the city council Alderman H. M. Fullerton will move, as chairman of the electric lighting committee, the following resolution, which is self explanatory:

"That whereas under the premises of an agreement entered into by the corporation with the B. C. Electric Railway Ltd, the company agreed, inter alia, that after the time their plant is in operation the rate to be charged for electric light and power for the City of Victoria were to be considerably reduced, and

"Whereas the company's plant is now believed to be in full operation, therefore be it resolved that the B. C. Electric railway be requested now to apply the new rates to users of city electric light and power in the City of Victoria forthwith in accordance with the terms of the said agreement."

The influence of rates for power purposes is a large factor in determining the location of new industries, and therefore the city council is taking a commendable step in hurrying up a reduction of prices when the company is growing serious in the west. The progress of the plant of the Vancouver Island Power company justifies the step now proposed.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 24.—Frank Hotelling, a magazine writer of New York, was burned to death last night in a fire which destroyed a rooming house on West Seventh street, at which Hotelling was staying. The fire is supposed to have been started by an electric heating device in Hotelling's room. Smoke was discovered pouring from his room and Hotelling was awakened. He left his room and then went back to rescue some manuscripts. Firemen found his charred remains where he had fallen, overcome by smoke.

NEW VOLCANOES IN ALASKA.

Valdez, Alaska, Oct. 24.—Prospectors returning from Fort Wells report that four new volcanoes are belching masses of black smoke in Kenai peninsula. From the mountain towns they are seen very plainly. Two are close together, joined by a high ridge. The other two are seven miles distant. They are apparently nearer to Port Wells than to Seward. No one has been close enough to determine their exact locality.

NOT ENTITLED TO PRACTICE.

Vancouver, Oct. 24.—That women are not entitled to take examinations or practice law in British Columbia is the decision of Mr. Justice Morrison, handed down yesterday. Miss Mable Penney-French, a barrister of the province of New Brunswick, applied to be admitted to practice in this province, but the Benchers' Association refused to allow her the right to proceed to examination. She applied for a mandamus, but the judge now holds he cannot grant her application.

DISASTER AVERTED.

Toulon, Oct. 24.—A repetition of the Liberte disaster was probably averted yesterday by the presence of mind of the commander of the battleship Suffran. As the vessel was preparing to leave here, escaping steam overheated the partitions between the coal bunkers and the magazines, causing an outbreak of fire. The commander without delay flooded the magazines and extinguished the flames.

CARNEGIE SUBPOENAED.

New York, Oct. 24.—Andrew Carnegie has been subpoenaed. It was learned to-day, as a witness in the trial of William J. Cummins, the former directing head of the defunct Carnegie Trust Company. The subpoena was served on Mr. Carnegie as he left the steamer Celtic last Friday.

INDIANS MAY REVOLT.

Lander, Wyo., Oct. 24.—The Shoshone and Arapahoe Indians, on the Wind river reservation, are on the verge of open revolt, according to reports from settlers in that district. They are said to be near starvation, and the cold weather of the past week has added to their misery.

The fortnightly meeting of the Order of Owls (local branch) was held last evening in the A. O. F. hall on Broad street. The financial and other reports showed the new order to be in excellent condition. The next meeting will be held on November 13 when a dozen more new members are to be taken in.

Lawyers Will Vigorously Fight Charge of Murder Against Clergyman

Boston, Oct. 24.—In preparation for the special session of the Suffolk grand jury next Thursday, when the case of Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, of Cambridge, who is under arrest on the charge of murdering Avis Linnell here on October 14, will be called, District Attorney Pelletier to-day went over the evidence in the hands of the police officials.

With ample financial backing Richeson's lawyers will contest the case vigorously. The report of the analysis of the stomach of Avis Linnell by Prof. Whitney of the Harvard medical school is being eagerly waited.

On order of District Attorney Pelletier it was arranged to exhume the body of Miss Linnell to-day and have it brought from Hyannis to Boston. Incidentally it will be definitely known whether the receptacle which contained the cyanide of potassium was left in the pocket of the bathrobe which was buried with the body.

FORTUNE FOUND IN TRUNK.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 24.—A petition filed in the probate department of the Superior court here for the reopening of the estate of Charles J. Jansen disclosed the fact that a collection of old papers, which have lain at the bottom of a trunk for 32 years, constitute a fortune of approximately $800,000. The papers consist of Mexican government bonds and securities and a legal examination made preliminary to the filing of the petition is said to have established the fact they constitute a valid claim against the Mexican government for their full value, with interest.

Jansen died in San Francisco on February 2, 1879. His widow, Mrs. Theresa Louise Jansen, the present petitioner, believed the papers worthless and the trunk was unopened for years, being used as a receptacle for family heirlooms.

PICTURES BARRED.

Durham, N. C., Oct. 24.—A riot was narrowly averted last night when the police put a stop to the display of moving pictures of Beulah Binford, the 17-year-old "girl in the case" in the recent Beattie murder trial at Chesterfield, Va. The proprietor of the picture theatre threatened a policeman who attempted to stop the machine and an angry crowd hooted the police, who quickly swore out warrants and stopped the show.

WINNIPEG ELECTRIC DEAL.

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—Manager Phillips of the Winnipeg street railway, admitted yesterday that the Preece Engineering Co., which has contracts for supplying power to various Manitoba municipalities, has paid a deposit on the purchase price of the Winnipeg Electric, and the completion of the necessary papers was only awaited to turn over the physical assets of the company.

STEAMER WRECKED.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 24.—The Norwegian steamship Halvorden, Captain Jeruldsen, struck on a shoal three miles west of Fourchu Head, C. B. The ship was from southern ports bound to Montreal with a cargo of nitrate. The steamer is broken in two, only part of the funnel is above water, and she will be a total loss. The crew landed safely.

DEATH OF EARL OF ONSLOW.

London, Oct. 24.—The Earl of Onslow died yesterday. William Hillier Onslow, fourth Earl of Onslow, was born in 1853 and had been chairman of committees and deputy speaker in the House of Lords since 1905. He was a Conservative.

Notice to Advertisers

Owing to the rapidly increasing circulation of the Times and the growing demands for space, it has become absolutely necessary to place a limit upon the time at which changes for advertisements will be accepted and guaranteed publication. Copy for changes must be handed in to the business office not later than 7 p. m. the previous day. Arrangements for the insertion of new advertisements must be made before 10 a. m. day of publication. Classified advertisements before 2 p. m.

The above rules are made for the benefit of readers of the Times, who insist upon the paper being delivered as early in the evening as possible.

SONGHEES PARK BYLAW.

Among the advertisements appearing in a local paper is one written over the signature of the clerk of the Municipal Council and intitled "A bylaw to raise the sum of $80,000 for the purchase of a park." The land designated as being purchasable for this purpose is "twelve acres, more or less, lying north of the Esquimalt road and facing on the waters of the Gorge." This land is a part of the Songhees Reserve, which has lately come into the possession of the provincial government, and the city council, always desirous of taking time by the forelock, deems it advisable that some twelve acres should be purchased and set aside for public purposes and to be known as Songhees Park.

While the Times has always advocated the establishment of a suitable system of areas for recreation purposes and believes that the area designated is exceedingly desirable, this paper is by no means convinced that the purchase of the land described is desirable, particularly in view of the enormous sum that the ratepayers are to be asked to pay for the acreage. The proposal to establish a public park in that part of the city suburbs in which this land lies is not a new one, but the proposal to pay for it the sum designated, or any sum, is a complete reversal of the policy hitherto pursued by the city in respect to this tract. The matter of obtaining a suitable area in that locality for park purposes was the subject of correspondence and negotiation between the city and provincial government at various times during the years 1905 and 1908, and as late as the month of February in 1907 the ratepayers were assured by the then, mayor of the city, that the government had covenanted to donate to the city corporation for park purposes, not twelve acres, but twenty-five acres, in this tract.

That there may be no doubt that a definite understanding had been arrived at between the city council and the provincial government prior to February 1 in 1907, we reproduce an interview granted by Mayor Morley to the Colonist and appearing on the morning of the date named. In the reported interview Mayor Morley speaks in the first person all through and is so quoted, there being no doubt that he then authorized the interview verbatim. Mayor Morley said:

"This matter occupied considerable attention during the past year and in all our negotiations with the provincial government we have been treated very fairly. We have letters from the Provincial Secretary stating that the government is ready and willing to transfer its reversionary rights in the reserve to the municipal corporation. We have had the agreement drawn up, but we have been delayed considerably by the fact that it is necessary to submit a bylaw to the council and the ratepayers before we can definitely accept the proposition.

In transferring its reversionary rights to the corporation the government will cede its interests to Victoria; and it will then be a matter between the city and the Dominion government at Ottawa. By securing this concession from the provincial government we have got matters so arranged that it only remains necessary for the city to exert every effort to have the question definitely settled. Instead of giving the rights to the Dominion, the provincial government has decided to turn them over to the corporation and in this manner we are given a much better chance. I think we stand a good chance of getting these rights from the provincial government the negotiations would have been carried on until Doomsday."

We have omitted from this interview only those parts which reflected upon the Dominion government, and they in no way affect the case as far as the relations between the city and the provincial government come into it.

There are several important features in the situation as it was presented by Mayor Morley at that time. It will be seen that Mayor Morley represented to the citizens of Victoria that the government had entered into a solemn agreement, over the signature of the provincial secretary, to grant to the corporation its reversionary interest in this land. It was reported that an Order-in-Council had been passed confirming this arrangement, though Mayor Morley did not incorporate that statement in his letter. The interview, however, makes clear that the government had pledged itself to "turn over" to the city its "reversionary interests in these lands," and as that was all the government ever had in the reserve, it meant that a quit claim deed was to be granted to the civic corporation. Whatever disposition the Dominion government might afterward make of the Reserve could in no way affect the title to that right in it which the province claimed at that time, and which the province—according to Mayor Morley—ceded to the city.

The Times believes that, to the ratepayer of average intelligence, it will seem strange that, after a lapse of less than five years, the city is to be called on to pay $80,000 for a small part of the land which was at that time ceded to the city.

It is true that, since that time, the provincial government has acquired the rights of both the Dominion government and the Indians in the land in question. But the price paid by the province in liquidation of these rights or claims for the whole reserve does not bear to the twelve acres in question a relation which would entitle the value of the part designated "Songhees Park" to be placed at $80,000. Here is a nice point for legal quibble and political gallery play. How much was the reversionary interest of the provincial government in these lands worth when ceded to the city? How much did the provincial government pay for the title clear that it has today? What proportion of this would represent the value of the twelve acres? How much should be deducted from this equation in lieu of the reversionary interests ceded to the city by the province in 1907? Does the government—now that it has come into possession of the Reserve—intend to repudiate the title that Mayor Morley said it had given to the city?

We think the ratepayers who are to be asked to authorize the expenditure of $80,000 for these lands are entitled to be taken into the confidence of the city council as to the arithmetical process by which the sum of $80,000 was arrived at as a fair equation for these twelve acres. It must be remembered that the government ceded its interests to the city and in computing an equation the value of the reversionary interest in the acres which the city is not asked to buy should be calculated in what is to be deducted from the value put upon the whole.

We think that it is the duty of Mayor Morley to give the public the information upon which they may intelligently vote either for or against the proposal to buy this park land. We individualize Mayor Morley, as it was he whose authority was accepted for the statements made in the interview which we reproduce to-day. The city council has no right to ask the ratepayers to vote on so complicated a question without the data upon which to base an intelligent vote. The Times hopes that it will not take "until Doomsday" to secure the necessary enlightenment.

INTONATION OF VOWELS.

The telegraph wires sometimes carry strange and amusing messages, but we have seen none to excel in these qualities the reported remarks of Bishop Farthing of Montreal in his address to the Protestant teachers at their convention on Saturday. The bishop said:

"It is regrettable that Canadian children should lack culture and be unable to speak pleasing English, a condition which leads many employers to prefer English boys to Canadian boys in their offices. This might largely be overcome if Canadians acquired a softer and more musical intonation in their vowels."

One wonders which of the "57 varieties" of English spoken in the "Tight Little Isle" the bishop would have the Canadian children intone after in their "softer and more musical intonation of the vowels." Also whether the same criticism might apply to the use of consonants made by Canadians and whether we should call it "drawls" or "drawns," and likewise on all similar occasions when the "r" may be "musically" "drawn" into the conversation.

Those who heard His Majesty King George V. when he was in Vancouver—then Prince of Wales—will remember the remark made by Mr. Joseph Martin, M. P., in his speech after the Prince had replied to the address of welcome. Mr. Martin said on that occasion that he "was glad the Prince spoke English," and those who heard the Prince will remember that he spoke as every well-educated Canadian speaks in the use of both vowels and consonants. Anyway, the bishop's assertion contradicts the charge so often made against Canadian employers of labor in the words "No English need apply."

"China for the Chinese" is the deep murmurous undertone of the revolution. That sentiment will be one way of effective reprisal for the "Canada for the Canadians" cry. It will be Canada's first real experience with the yellow peril.

The naval budget of the United States for next year contemplates the expenditure of $219,000,000, which is more than the combined naval outlay of Germany and Italy. It would do no harm to have these people as our friends.

A new $5,000,000 packers' merger is the first tangible evidence that we have a new government. Sir Max Aitken's hurried visit to Canada will reveal the next. Other things, notably the Hudson's Bay Railway, that was, "to be constructed without one minute's delay" seem to be going rather slow.

The record of the public men in the government just formed at Ottawa indicates that English-speaking Canada is not represented by one public man who has ever shown that he is capable of proving himself a Protestant in the same sense of courage and sacrifice that F. D. Monk and his followers have always shown that they can prove themselves non-Protestants. — Toronto Telegram.

Mr. J. Castelli Hopkins, the Canadian historian, is not open to the suspicion of being a Liberal. In his Annual Review he outlines a speech delivered by our new Minister of Public Works, Hon. F. D. Monk, in Montreal, in which that gentleman embodied his views of the naval question and of Canada's relation to the Empire. Following is the summary given in the Review: "Mr. Monk describes the cost of the navy as being at present beyond Canada's means because of expensive and necessary public works; denounced the excessive cost of naval construction, and estimated a modest navy for Canada at $50,000,000; declared a Canadian navy to be useless and Canada under no obligation to defend other parts of the empire; stated that a military or naval consolidation of the empire would be to the advantage of self-government, and described the words of those who eulogized the greatness of the empire as 'imperial drunkenness.'"

We are very glad to see the morning paper correcting the bad impression created by Premier McBride in his unfortunate argument that as a matter of "cold-blooded business" it would be wise for the employers of Chinese and other Oriental labor to be rid of these in order that "white men" might be in profuse abundance when it shall become necessary to man the Pacific unit of the Canadian navy, which may or may not be. The employers of Orientals were very likely to say, "Show us your navy first, and we will discuss the other matter afterward." The problem of manning a Canadian navy will have to be faced when once we have a navy—not before. And in the present temper of the people of Canada and the vacillating policy of Mr. Borden with the unavailing determination of the Nationalists to have no navy, it was a very bad break for the Premier to make so soft a peddle an appeal to the employers. The belated patching up done by the morning paper to-day serves only to show how hollow and thoughtless was the whole drum beating suggestion.

The Borden-Bourassa organ in Quebec city is L'Evenement, a paper under clerical control and long noted for the narrowness of its views on politics and religion. This paper was strongly opposed to a Canadian navy, and no doubt knows the terms upon which the three no-navy Quebec members joined the Borden government. Commenting upon the cabinet it says:

"Messrs. Monk, Pelletier and Nantel have all three courageously denounced the naval law together with Messrs. Bourassa and Laverge. We may be sure that they have not agreed to form part of the ministry without having been given an assurance that our principles will be better respected than they were during the preceding regime. We are morally certain that Hon. Mr. Borden will fulfill the implicit and explicit promise that he made to public opinion by voting in favor of the Monk motion of December, 1910, for the principle of consulting the people upon the question of the contribution of Canada to the defence of the Empire."

The Victoria supporters of the B.-B.-B. party would like to know the terms on which the coalition has been made operative. What "assurance" did Mr. Borden give Mr. Bourassa? Probably Mr. Bernard knows and will tell Orangemen, who voted for him almost to a man—and who were fooled in doing so—are beginning to ask questions.

Gov. and Mrs. Paterson the annual sale at the Aged Ladies Home will be conducted on the afternoon and evening of November 1st. The old ladies are looking forward to the annual event with much pleasure and all those interested in the sale are busy in efforts to make it a success. Mr. Ploverright's band has been engaged for the evening and the entire 24 musicians will furnish music in the sun parlor. The articles to be found on sale will be of every description of needle work, fancy potted flowers, jellies and preserves, home made candies and all the good things which go to make up a successful fair. Refreshments are to be served during the afternoon and evening. All donations will be left at the Home on or before Wednesday—the day of the sale.

The cost is to be about $25,000.

—Mr. Chapman delivered an interesting address before the members of the Natural History Society last evening in Friends Hall. His subject was his topographical work which he superintends along the entire island. Five maps were shown and a graphic description was given of the season's work in the mountainous and wild countries encountered. He illustrated his maps the valuable and interesting work being done by the survey along the southern part of the island, and his entire address was listened to by an appreciative audience.

CIVIC IMBROGLIO GROWS PUZZLING

City Engineer's Department in Limelight To-night—Conflicting Opinions

The position of the police with regard to the proposed new jail is very unsatisfactory. The council and the commissioners desire to see immediate steps taken to remedy the present cramped accommodation in the lock-up and station, and it is claimed that Chief Langley's letter to the purchasing agent, W. W. Northcott, drawn up recently at the request of Mayor Morley, setting out the necessities for immediate alterations at the jail to carry the police over till the new station is ready for the adaptation of the market building for such purposes, did in no sense abandon the chief's definite expression of wish for the new building. He says that the patching up of the old premises can only be temporary, and he continues his objections to the removal of the central station from the lower end of Pandora avenue to any other site, far from the business district which the police have to watch.

At the council meeting this evening it is expected the mayor will have his veto overruled by the $50,000 voted for this express purpose by the ratepayers. It is claimed that an adequate majority can throw out the veto, and this will probably be attempted.

Alderman Langley has given notice of his intention to bring up a resolution with reference to the disallowance of the increase of salary to the engineer, through the tangle of the last two meetings. A resolution for the increase was submitted, but not formally passed, but appears to have reached the minutes, which were adopted, and in order to prevent the clause becoming operative the mayor disallowed the minutes. To put the council in order on this subject, this resolution will take the matter once more under consideration. The engineer's department will also be in the limelight again, as another report will come up from Mr. Smith dealing with further comments on the department by his worship, who claims that unnecessary expense has been involved by double trenching on some of the streets, where only one was, in his opinion, necessary. The feeling is likely to become bitter again, although the lengthy reply of last week has not yet been dealt with in accordance with the arrangement reached between the mayor and aldermen for seven days' grace.

The political Equality League will hold a parlor meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Adams' 629 Andrews street, Victoria West, on Thursday next. Mrs. Baer will occupy the chair and Mrs. Graves will give an address on "The Objections to Woman Voting."

To-night at the Y. M. C. A. in the young men's gymnasium class examinations in apparatus work will be conducted with the idea of dividing the class into grades according to their skill in apparatus work. Similar examinations will be held on Thursday for the intermediates.

Sir William White, who is touring Canada on an inspection and pleasure trip, arrived at Prince Rupert on Saturday, and will be in Victoria in the near future. Sir William is a most eminent naval architect, having had charge of the designing of most of the battleships of recent years. He heads many scientific institutions, and is well known throughout Great Britain. Sir William was a visitor in this city three years ago, and expressed himself as greatly impressed with the possibilities of Esquimalt as a naval base.

Grace Van Studdiford will appear at the Victoria theatre on Monday next in the Parisian comic opera buff, "The Paradise of Mahomet." Miss Van Studdiford to-day holds the position of foremost prima donna upon the American stage so unquestionably that her singing in this new offering can only be likened to her work in the past. She is reported to be in better voice than ever before, which will be pleasing news to those local theatregoers who enjoyed a most delightful evening with this accomplished and beautiful singer several seasons ago, when she appeared here in "Red Feather." They are certain to extend a warm welcome to Miss Van Studdiford in her latest offering, which won high praise in New York last season. A large and capable company supports Miss Van Studdiford, including Laura Burt, John J. McCowan, Florence Rother, Edward Mora, Florence Kolb, Hudson Freeborn and an exceptionally pretty singing chorus.

OAK BAY TO TAKE ITS OWN CENSUS

Municipality Dissatisfied With Enumeration Made by Dominion Government

After considerable discussion it was decided at the meeting of the Oak Bay council last evening that a census, independent altogether of the Dominion authorities, be taken in the municipality.

This was proposed by Councillor McGregor and was at first strongly opposed by Reeve Henderson, but after it had been pointed out that it would entail little cost and would be very useful, particularly in supplying the figures, the latter withdrew his objection. The unofficial figures given out after the recent census by the Dominion government give Oak Bay a population of about 1,400, the same number of people which it was estimated the municipality contained two years ago. It is thought that the actual population will reach the 2,000 mark.

It was proposed that the matter should be left over until after the official figures of the Dominion census were announced but this was overruled and the clerk instructed to proceed at once with the work of enumeration.

Complaints of indiscriminate shooting in the municipality by persons without permits were reported and it is likely that at the next meeting of the council the by-law governing the use of fire-arms will undergo a radical change. It was pointed out that as it stands now the by-law is practically useless, owing to the fact that the hunter must be caught in the very act of shooting before he can be prosecuted. A change, obtaining this difficulty and also restricting the hunters with permits to the less populated parts of the district may be affected. Councillor Noble gave notice of his intention to move an amendment to the by-law at the next meeting.

The proposition made two years ago to the city by the municipality with regard to the establishment of a fire hall for joint use was revived, and a motion that, with one small addition, the same proposal be made again, was carried. Two years ago the Oak Bay council proposed that the municipality and the city should each bear half the cost of the establishment and the maintenance of a fire department, which should operate in the Oak Bay district and in the adjoining part of Victoria City. This was turned down by the city council. The addition to this made last evening was that the hall should be erected on a site mutually selected.

A petition asking for a cement sidewalk along Newport avenue, from the Oak Bay hotel to the sea, was finally passed. The avenue is about a mile in length and extends through the golf links.

A communication from the New Westminster Automobile Association, asking that the council be represented at the annual convention of those interested in the "good roads" movement to be held on November 3 and 4 in Westminster, was received and filed.

LAND COMMISSIONER MAKES STATEMENT

In a pointedly written letter G. U. Ryley asserts that the official townsites of the G. T. P. railway is Fraser Lake. This would settle the question as to the future of Fraser Lake. The site for station grounds and switches is located there and the public can rest assured that Fraser Lake will be an important town on the main line of the railway.

The townsites are selling rapidly—the original platting comprises only 62 blocks, so that there is sure to be some people who will be too late to get in at starting prices.

There is little doubt but that the whole of the official lots will be sold off in the next few weeks. The Western Lands, Limited, will send map and price list upon request. Their address is: 1201 Broad street, corner of View, Victoria.

WAS FOUND DROWNED.

Open Verdict Returned by Jury in Case of Andrew Howlett.

That the deceased was "found drowned" was the verdict of the jury empaneled yesterday afternoon to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Andrew Wenzel Howlett, whose body was found in the water at the foot of Yates street on Friday afternoon. From the evidence given it appeared that Howlett had lately been employed by the Tod Inlet Cement Works. He was last seen leaving the Blue Post hotel, where he roomed with a friend, on Wednesday morning, October 4. He did not say where he was going. A blow he received on the head while working for the city some months ago was thought to have affected his mind, as he had been acting strangely previous to his disappearance. He was subject to hallucinations, often declaring that he was followed by Chinamen. A post mortem examination disclosed no signs of violence. Howlett was practically unknown in Victoria, and except for the fact that he came from Manitoba, where he owned a small farm, nothing could be learned of his past life. The jury was composed of the following: J. S. Huxtable (foreman), H. Hutchinson, V. Evans, A. Carrington, C. Baxter and L. Evans.

INVESTS HALF MILLION DOLLARS IN VICTORIA.

Mr. R. L. Drury, local manager of the Mutual Life of Canada, is authority for the statement that the amount of loans put through by his company in Victoria agency, already runs into half a million dollars, with more to follow. It is significant in this connection that the Mutual Life of Canada has a unique record in regard to its investments, the fact being that of the many millions invested during their history of over forty years they have never lost a single dollar on any security held by them.

That a company with such a reputation for careful selection of investments is advancing large amounts of money for the erection of new buildings in Victoria, demonstrates that the management of the Mutual Life of Canada regard the city of Victoria as having an assured and prosperous future. A company with such an enviable reputation to guard does not risk its money on any doubtful securities and the fact that it regards this city as a safe and desirable field for investment is a compliment to Victoria's good financial and commercial standing.

At the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium men's Bible class it has been decided to take the study of Robert Speers' new work on the principles of Jesus as the subject of study during the winter.

There was a good attendance at the inaugural meeting on Sunday, at which 25 joined the class. Rev. C. W. Whyte conducted the men's meeting in the auditorium.

The plan of seats was available today for the lecture by L. W. Ford at the Y. M. C. A. to-morrow week. Mr. Ford's reputation as a cartoonist will assure him a good attendance here, as in many other cities where he has spoken during the present tour.

M'NEILL LOWERS HALF MILE RECORD

Thirteen Seconds Cut Off—
Ladies' Honors Won by Miss
Madge Griffen

The championship swimming meeting held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. tank was a success in every way. There was a large attendance, and the contests were keenly watched by the visitors. Two records were broken in Canadian swimming, and that in spite of the numerous turns necessary in a bath only 60 feet long. The gathering will certainly achieve much in the way of encouraging an interest in indoor swimming competitions locally.

Results:
880 yards championship of Canada (first heat)—J. F. Crompton, Victoria Y. M. C. A.; 2, George Simpson, Vancouver Rowing Club; 3, H. L. Seller, Victoria Y. M. C. A. Time, 16:22. Second heat—1, J. McNeill, Victoria Y. M. C. A.; 2, L. K. Godfrey, Victoria Y. M. C. A. Time, 14:46. Godfrey qualified for the final, as fastest loser. Final heat—1, J. McNeill; 2, L. K. Godfrey; 3, F. Crompton. Time, 14:17.

Sampson was beaten in his heat to the surprise of many, but his strong breast stroke was a feature. He was obviously handicapped by the frequent turns, as the distance represented 44 lengths of the bath. Crompton used the overhand stroke, and did well, from half way, being assured of the victory. In the second heat McNeill made much better time than Crompton, as using the side stroke with an easy swing, he easily covered the long distance. In the final McNeill again showed up well, and did the distance in 14:17, at least 13 seconds below the record for Canada. The world mark for this distance is 11:11 3/5, so that everything considered, McNeill's achievement is no light one, bearing in mind the record was made on a straight course. Godfrey was made two lengths and a half behind, and although Crompton was away behind he pluckily finished the distance.

Sixty yards backstroke (first heat)—1, R. E. Burns, Victoria Y. M. C. A.; 2, H. L. Seller, Victoria Y. M. C. A. Time, 55 1/5 seconds. Second heat—1, R. Burns, Victoria Y. M. C. A.; 2, J. Thom, Victoria Y. M. C. A. Time, 50 1/2 seconds. Final heat—1, J. Thom; 2, R. Burns; 3, R. E. Burns. Time, 53 3/5 seconds.

This race was keenly contested throughout, and in the final there was a close finish between Thom and Burns.

100 yards ladies' championship of Canada—1, Miss M. Griffen, Victoria; 2, Miss D. Hay, Victoria. Time, 1:36 3/5. Mrs. Raymond scratched, leaving two in the field. Miss Griffen won easily, but the swimming of the loser was very pretty to see. Both came in for much applause on completing the distance. In this case again the Canadian record was broken.

A handicap race between H. Henderson of the Vancouver Y. M. C. A. and J. Cameron of this city, terminated over the 150 yards course in an easy victory for the local man, whose win was very popular. Cameron, who is a much smaller man, swam with greater ease, and won with two-thirds of a lap in 2:38.

The novelty race in tubs for boys provoked much fun. One boy was too big for the tub, and never got away, while C. Hay beat E. Wright quite easily, they being the only two who competed.

100 yards championship of Victoria—1, J. Thom, Victoria Y. M. C. A.; 2, W. D. Muir, Victoria Y. M. C. A.; 3, A. Time, 1:13 3/5. Cropper was the third competitor. This was a good race with a close finish.

Mayor Morley distributed the medals and prizes, and congratulated the winners.

A LINE ON LOCAL "PRO" SOCCER MEN

Victoria Will Be Represented by Aggregation of Stars on Thanksgiving Day

When Victoria lines up against Cumberland in the first game of the B. C. Professional Soccer League at the Royal Athletic park on Thanksgiving day, an aggregation of stars, the equal of which has never before represented the city, will take the field. The players who have been signed by the local club are in the city now, and are holding practices regularly.

The following is a little "dope" on all the players compiled for the benefit of the fans:
Goalkeepers: Dave Dougan, the team manager and a player well known in Victoria. He played in ten games in the B. C. league for Ladysmith last season, allowing only five goals to be scored on him, and in the Island league series which Ladysmith won, allowing only one goal to be scored. The latter is a record which will stand for a long time unbroken, and he is said to be the man who established it practically won the championship for Ladysmith. The one goal scored was from a penalty.

Edwards, Rogers—formerly of Nanaimo and Vancouver Thistles. Considered one of the best goalkeepers on the Coast. He had the misfortune to break both his ankles while following his employment in Nanaimo last year and was out of the game for several months.

Backs: A. Crawford, a well known and popular local man. He has never shown the form in this city he did three years ago when playing for the Winnipeg Celts, but it is expected that he will be at his best with Tom Miller as a partner. He was with the Wards last season.

Tommy Miller—perhaps the best left back Canada has ever seen. He played in the Scottish and English inter-league games. Was also an international with Scotland against England. He was a member of the Chelsea English League team, and was one of the team which brought Chelsea into the first division. He was the smallest back in the English league, but made up for his lack of weight by his cleverness.

Hawley, Joe—another good well known in Victoria. He is the trickiest player and hardest worker in the province. Played with the West Coast team in city games and in the Island league, and with Ladysmith in the B. C. league.

Ferris—another of the same stamp as Hawley. He is playing with the Forests this season; is full of dash and always wins sound judgment.

Scott Harley—has played with Nanaimo and Vancouver Thistles, and is a hard and clever worker.

William Leslie—comes from Winnipeg with a reputation for being a fine player and feeder for the forwards; knows how to shoot for the goal; has seen service with Elgin City. He was given a trial with the Glasgow Rangers and made a fine show for himself in Victoria.

William Wilson—well known in Victoria. At present playing with the Wests; is a sound player and a fine outside right.

Forwards: A. Wilkie—outside right. A native of Edinburgh. Played last season with the St. Bernards. Is a very fast man and a splendid shot.

Frank Youson—can play either outside right or centre. Is quick as a flash and always hustling. Played with Ladysmith in the B. C. league last season.

Sid Thomas—inside right. A native of Nottingham. Has played with the County for several seasons and with Worcester City for two seasons. He also played with Reading in the Southern league; is a great combination player. He leaves Winnipeg with a name second in the county as a goal-scoring forward.

Pierson—centre. A local man who always plays the game. He will show in his best form with such men as Thomas and Muir.

Archie Muir—the midge of the team. A native of Ayrshire, Scotland. Came to Ladysmith over two years ago. Can play inside right or left. A clever dribbler and a sure shot at goal. A great favorite in Victoria. He is only a youngster, and although exceptionally clever now will improve every season for some time.

George Allen—a sturdy Scot. Can play in either inside position. At present playing with the Bays. Has seen service with the Partick Thistle in the Scottish league; commenced his career as a member of the Parkhead team in the Glasgow junior league. He should make a name for himself in Victoria.

J. McLeod—outside left. A fast and clever player. He has been with Ladysmith two years and played with the Vancouver Celts last season. When in form he has few superiors on the Coast.

Whittaker—outside right. Perhaps the cleverest man in that position in Victoria. He is a native of Lancashire and has played with Manchester City. He was with the Accrington Stanley in the Lancashire Combination league. He can shoot on the run and sends across some pretty centres. Is now with the Wests in the City league.

SPORT NOTES

Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford have signed to fight twenty rounds before Tom McCarey's club in Los Angeles on November 11. This would seem to indicate that Joe Woodman has given up the idea of taking Sam to Australia to fight for Hugh McIntosh. As a matter of fact, nobody who was acquainted with McIntosh's methods believed that a chance in Kangaroo land unless he was presented with a guarantee that allowed no financial leakage. McIntosh is in hard straits these days. No body in the fighting brigade seems to want his engagements and his promises of big money in the Antipodes fall upon deaf ears.

Negotiations are under way for a 16-round bout between Packer McFarland and Matt Wells, the lightweight champion of England, to be held at the Fairmont Athletic Club, New York, early next month. It is declared that Ad Wolgast, because of unreasonable demands, is in danger of losing his match with Wells, scheduled for November 3, and McFarland is likely to be substituted for the titleholder. The chief contention in which the promoters of the contest have balked is Wolgast's stipulation that the club must put up the entire amount of the purse, $19,000, before the bout, or there is nothing doing. McFarland and Wells were matched two months ago for a bout in Madison Square Gardens on October 19, which had to be cancelled.

To-morrow evening at 6 o'clock the entries for the Gold Seal race, to be run in Vancouver on Thanksgiving Day, closes. Any local men intending to compete must therefore send in their names to A. B. Patterson, secretary of the Vancouver branch of the B. C. A. U. immediately. The race is over a distance of 11 1/5 miles.

Invitation handicap foursomes will be held on the Macaulay Point golf links on Saturday, commencing at 2:15 p.m. Members are requested to send in their own and partner's names to Major J. E. Mills, Work Point barracks, not later than noon Saturday. Tea will be served.

Frank Burns, of Jersey City, was awarded a "clear-cut" decision over Monte Attell, of San Francisco, in a fast ten-round bout at New Orleans, La., last night. The sporting writers were unanimous in their ballot.

Patsy Kline, the New Jersey featherweight, knocked out Joe Coster, of Brooklyn, with a right to the jaw in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round bout at New York last night. Kline carried the fighting to Coster from the first round of the bout, putting the Brooklynite to the floor for nine seconds in the first round.

BOY SCOUTS' SHOOTING COMPETITION.

Saturday the Boy Scouts held their first annual shoot for the "Oscar Bass" Challenge Cup. Out of seventeen troops there were ten entries and the competition lasted throughout the day being held in the Drill Hall by kind permission of Col. Currie, C. O. Fifth Regiment. There were six boys in each team and each boy had one sighting shot and ten for the competition proper. The decimal system of marking was used, making a possible of 100 for each boy. The range was 20 yards, with the .22 rifle, but the light was very poor.

The result was an easy win for the XV. (Univ. Sch.) Troop who scored 356. McBride being highest with 70. The next was the 1st Troop with 298, for whom Richard Scott, 78, which was the highest individual score in the whole competition. The 3rd place was won by the XIV. Troop also from University School, who deserve special mention as they were all boys under thirteen years of age. They obtained 274 points.

Messrs. Harvey, Selfe, and Davey fired kindly marked throughout the whole competition while Mr. Collinson took charge of the firing point. During the afternoon the donor of the cup, Mr. Bass, very generously distributed refreshments to those present. The cup is a challenge cup to be held by the winning troop for one year only but at the end of ten years it goes to the troop whose name is on it the most number of times.

The full scores, in order of merit, were as follows: 1st, XV Troop, 356; 2nd, I Troop, 298; 3rd, XIV Troop, 274; 4th, IV Troop, 248; 5th, III Troop, 143; 6th, II Troop, 125; 7th, VIII Troop, 123; 8th, XII Troop, 122; 9th, XI Troop, 103; 10th, VI Troop, 101.

THE OCTOBER ROD AND GUN.

On the eve of the opening of the big game hunting season, Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Publisher, Woodstock, Ont., is to the fore with a splendid supply of good game hunting stories, covering Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The opening story of Bonnycastle Dale is particularly good, consisting of a fine description of the gallant efforts of a little fawn to escape its rescue by the sportsman whose best instincts were aroused by its hopeless struggle, and its capture and revival by the petting sheltered upon it. The whole proves a capital opening for a number which includes hunting of many varieties and under widely different conditions. Mr. Sturatt's paper on Woodcock shooting in Nova Scotia is another article which stands out prominently as one which cannot fail to stir the feelings and the memories of all bird hunters and make them live many of their experiences over again. Big game hunting, however, is given the pride of place in this number, and it is a foregone conclusion that in many a camp throughout this broad Dominion Rod and Gun will prove not only acceptable but an indispensable companion. Many an important article of the outfit would be less missed than this number.

Gulls Won Decisive Victory From
Hawks at Arcade Alleys Last Evening.

The Gulls and the Hawks opened the second week's series in the House League last evening and after a rather poor exhibition of bowling, considering the class of the bowlers, the latter won a decisive victory, taking three straight games.

The scores were:

SHOTS FIRED IN REICHSRATH.

Sensational Outrage at Opening of the Austrian Parliament.

There was a heated scene at the opening sitting of the Lower House of the Austrian Reichsrath, at Vienna.

Dr. Adler (Social Democrat) reproached the governing classes and the Italian government with threatening the peace of Europe by the action against Turkey. Social Democrats, he said, did not support the Turkish regime, which protected all sorts of cruel oppression in Europe and Asia, and the slave trade in Africa. The Italian enterprise, however, was not a campaign in the interests of humanity, but brigandage. The Austrian government should pay heed to the unanimous will of the industrial population, which detested war.

Turning to home affairs, Dr. Adler attacked Dr. von Hohenburger, minister of justice, for the severe sentences passed upon the persons who took part in the dear food riots in the Ottakring district of Vienna last month. His speech led to an outburst of indignant Social Democratic cries against the minister.

During the disturbance four shots were fired from the second gallery at the ministerial bench, upon which were seated the minister of justice and the minister of education. The shots fortunately hit no one.

The sitting was interrupted amid scenes of the wildest excitement.

The sitting was resumed after an interval of half an hour. The president, Herr Sylvester, expressed his indignation at the outrage, and stated that he had taken steps to prevent any such occurrence in the future. The sitting was again suspended for a conference between the party leaders.

The criminal is a Dalmatian working man. He admitted that he aimed at the minister of justice.

When the sitting was once more resumed Dr. Adler, continuing his speech amid great uproar, expressed his regret at the outrage, which was the act of a lunatic.

Baron Gautsch, the premier, amid great cheers, declared that the outrage was an attempt not only upon the ministerial bench, but upon Austrian Parliamentarism. It was not surprising that the inflammatory speeches uttered nearly every day at Socialist meetings, speeches showing a striking resemblance to the speech made by Dr. Adler, should end in such acts.

"Midst a shower of tears, little Willie was telling his mother what a wicked boy he had been."

"The other day, mamma," he said, "I found the church door unlocked and I went inside. There wasn't anybody there, and I—"

"You didn't take anything away, did you, son?" she asked.

"Worse than that, I—"

"Did you mutilate the hymn-books, or play any tricks of that kind?"

"Oh, lots worse than that, mamma," sobbed Willie. "I went and sat down in the amen corner and said 'Darn it.'"

ARION CLUB FINANCES.

A Small Deficit on Account of Entertaining Visiting Organizations at Reunion Concert.

In the annual reports of the Arion Club which were recently submitted and adopted, it was shown that the season's expenditure exceeded the income by $101.42, but it was pointed out that this was after including the Arion-Orpheus reunion account, which showed a deficit of $172.80, and that but for this exceptional cost of entertaining the visiting club the season would have resulted in a surplus of $71.38, compared with $29.91 in the previous year. Apart from the singing members, who all subscribe for tickets, there were 179 associate members who paid $339.75 for 498 tickets for the series of three concerts. This shows an increased membership list, and much satisfaction is felt at this evidence of the continued and increased popularity of the club.

The balance sheet shows a surplus of $262.94, comprising cash and a few outstanding debts. The assets also include stock of music $571.08, valued at half cost, and furniture, $48. This shows that in both seasons the club has been able by increased patronage to keep within its revenue, notwithstanding the increased expenses and the continuance of the very low subscription rates which were fixed many years ago.

The club has decided to engage Mademoiselle Plumb, of Chicago, a highly trained contralto, to perform at its second concert.

The following members were elected as office-bearers for the present year (which is the club's twentieth season), viz.: E. H. Russell, B. A., hon. conductor; Herbert Kent, hon. president and sub-conductor; E. J. Hearn, hon. secretary; B. C. Mess, hon. treasurer; D. D. Muir, hon. librarian. Mr. Frank Selik was appointed to music committee.

TWO DUCK HUNTERS THEIR OWN VICTIMS

A. L. Partington and Charles Watkin in Hospitals as Result of Careless Shooting

A. L. Partington of Spring Ridge and a boy named Charles Watkin, seventeen years of age, who resides with his parents at Yates and Quadra streets, are both in hospital beds, being the victims of shot-gun accidents yesterday afternoon. The boy Watkin has had an arm amputated and will go through life handicapped hereafter, and Mr. Partington has the muscles of his right side torn away and lacerated scattered over his back. He is in the Jubilee hospital, where he was attended by Dr. H. R. Rundle Nelson and Dr. George Hall. The physicians believe he will recover, although he is at present weak from loss of blood and shock.

Young Watkin is at the St. Joseph's hospital, where the amputation of his arm was made yesterday afternoon immediately he was brought from Shoal Bay by automobile. Dr. E. C. Hart ordered the amputation as soon as he became aware of the extent of the injuries. The flesh of the arm was torn away in shreds and the bone shattered.

Mr. Partington went duck shooting yesterday from Oak Bay with Richard Neill in a row boat. A loaded shotgun lying on the floor of the boat behind the victim, with the muzzle pointing to his back and with the hammer cocked, was suddenly exploded by the hammer striking the side of the boat. Mr. Partington received the shot full in the back and side. Mr. Neill performed temporary surgical aid, staying the flow of blood from the back and arm and side of the injured man, and hailed the tug Shamrock, which threw a line and towed the boat with the injured man to Oak Bay landing, from where he was taken to the hospital at once.

The accident to the boy Watkin occurred at Shoal Bay, where he and a companion had gone in a boat to shoot duck. They landed and the injured lad dragged his loaded gun ashore by the muzzle. It exploded and the charge tore his arm so badly that its amputation was necessary. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital by automobile. He is now progressing as well as his physician can expect.

IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT.

A. C. Olsner of City Engineering Staff, Leaves for South America.

A. C. Olsner, a member of the city engineering staff, has accepted an important appointment with the West-Union Paying Company and has, in consequence, resigned his connection with Victoria as his new office will entail his leaving for South America, at an early date, to superintend the various extensive contracts which the company is carrying out there. Mr.

Olsner has been identified with several very important undertakings, and in each and all of them the results have proved eminently satisfactory. He was location engineer on the Canadian Northern Pacific on the line between the city and Shawigan Lake. In Ontario he was employed on government work and he also saw service in Hong Kong where his abilities were held in high esteem.

WAGES OF MINERS IN NOVA SCOTIA

United Mine Workers Refuse to Be Bound by P. W. A. Arrangement

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 24.—Some days ago the P. W. A. at a meeting of the grand council appointed a committee to draw up a wage schedule for miners of Nova Scotia on the lines of the 1907 schedule. The different locals were authorized to enter into an agreement with the mining companies on the basis of that schedule.

The United Mine Workers' executive office of Nova Scotia now comes out with a proclamation addressed to all mine workers of Nova Scotia in which they refuse to be bound by the proposed P. W. A. arrangement and protest against such an agreement being entered into. They allege as reasons for this that the P. W. A. was voted three years ago; that there have been two general increases in wages to the organized mine workers of North America, while the men of Nova Scotia have received no general increase, that all present contracts between mine workers and operators in North America terminate on March 13, 1912, at which time all mine workers of the country will present demands for increased wages and better working conditions.

ACTRESS COLLAPSES

Grace Van Studdiford Unable to Respond to Fifteenth Encore.

Wallace, Idaho, Oct. 21.—Before a crowded house to-night at the Masonic theatre, Grace Van Studdiford, the star of "The Paradise of Mahomet," completely collapsed during the rendition of the song, "There's Something About You Dear That Appeals to Me." This number, which is being as widely discussed as were "The Merry Widow" waltz and "Every Little Movement," created a perfect furore here. Encore after encore was demanded of the popular prima donna, until she was utterly unable to respond to the fifteenth encore. The opera proceeded after the excitement over the calling of a physician from among the audience had subsided. When Miss Van Studdiford reappeared at the proper time she was tumultuously applauded.

FEASTED WHILE OTHERS STARVED

Leader of Shiloh Colony Ordered Woman and Family to Fast for 24 Hours

Brunswick, Me., Oct. 24.—While the crew and passengers of the Holy Ghost and its yacht Coronet were subsisting on half rations and three swallows of water each a day, Rev. Frank W. Sanford was enjoying two meals a day, according to Roland Whitton, until recently sailing master of the yacht.

"At the time of the wreck of the Kingdom, another of the society's yachts, off the African coast," said Whitton, "we had but 80 gallons of water on the Coronet, and with the Kingdom's party aboard there were 50 persons to partake of it. Instead of going to land for more, Sanford headed south, because, he said, he had instructions from God."

"The water was reduced until we were allowed but three swallows a day. Sanford, however, had two square meals a day, while we were on half rations."

"One of the men named Sellick was stricken with fever. Sanford told Mrs. Sellick the illness of her husband was due to the displeasure of God with the doings of herself and her family. He ordered them to fast 24 hours. The two-year-old Sellick boy was taken with convulsions and died. Again Sanford told Mrs. Sellick the death of her baby was a judgment of God."

COMING MUNICIPAL CONFERENCE

The officers of the B. C. Union of Municipalities which meets here in the council chambers on November 15 and 16 are: President, Mayor Planta, of Nanaimo; vice-president, Mayor Robinson, of Kamloops; hon. secretary-treasurer, Ex-Reeve Bosc, of Surrey. With the following the foregoing form the executive committee: Ex-Reeve McNaught, of North Vancouver; Ex-Reeve Bryne, of Burnaby; (now Indian agent at New Westminster); Mayor Lee of New Westminster; Mayor Sutherland, of Kelowna; Dr. Hamilton (mayor of Revelstoke); ex-Ald. Bannerman, of this city; and Ald. Enright, of Vancouver.

His Majesty's formal notepaper is now distinguished by a miniature Tudor crown in royal red, with the name of the royal residence in the same color, and the envelopes are embossed with a red crown of the same size upon the flap, no monogram being employed. This choice of color has the incidental advantage of distinguishing the correspondence of the late King Edward from that of the present reign.

MAKING GOOD TIME ON LONG TRIP HERE

Alice Reaches Montevideo One Month Out From Tyne — Coals and Proceeds on Way

Excellent time is being made by the new C. P. R. steamer Princess Alice (Capt. Lindgren), on her 15,000-mile voyage from Newcastle-on-Tyne to this port. According to a telegram received by the officials of the B. C. Coast Service, the Alice reached Montevideo on Sunday, being out but seventeen days from St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands. After replenishing her bunkers, the new steamer cleared from the Uruguayan port to-day and after passing through the Straits of Magellan will call at Coronel and San Diego before making Victoria.

When the Alice reached Montevideo on Sunday she was out exactly one month from the Tyne, having left there on September 22. She arrived at St. Vincent on Tuesday, October 3, and sailed two days later. The latest addition to the C. P. R. fleet is making an average speed of eleven knots an hour. Capt. Lindgren, who is in command of the Alice, brought the sister ship Princess Adelaide around the Horn to Victoria. It is expected that the new Princess will be here about the end of next month.

Word has also been received here that the other new steamer, the Queen Alexandra, recently purchased for the Vancouver-Nanaimo run, is being prepared for the long jaunt to this port. She will sail from the Clyde early next month and will be here about the beginning of the new year. The Alexandra will be the fastest vessel in the B. C. Coast fleet, as she has a speed of nearly 22 knots.

DIRIGO IS FLOATED.

Steamer, Which Grounded Last Night, Came Off at High Water To-day Undamaged.

After resting on Pin Rock, just inside Laurel Point, for many hours, the Dirigo, which was making her first visit to this port, was floated off at high tide to-day and a survey failed to reveal any damage. The vessel was leaving the harbor last night and was passing one of the C. P. R. boats when she struck. Attempts were made to pull her off immediately, but all were unsuccessful and it was necessary to wait until high water to-day.

THREE DAYS' DELAY LEAVING YOKOHAMA

Sado Maru Not Docking Here Until Saturday Afternoon—Inaba Maru Sails To-day

Judging from the latest reports received concerning the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Sado Maru (Capt. Richards), it will be late on Saturday afternoon before she reaches this port from Yokohama, Hongkong and Manila. Word has just arrived from the Orient stating that the steamship sailed from Yokohama three days late having been delayed in getting her freight aboard. According to her schedule the Maru should arrive here to-morrow afternoon.

The first wireless message picked up from the Nippon liner was received by the operator at Estevan at 1:15 a. m. Capt. Richards gave his position as being latitude 43.11 north and longitude 164.23 west, 1,600 miles from the West Coast station. The Maru is expected at William Head about 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon and should reach the outer wharf about an hour later.

Work will commence immediately after the steamship is tied up in discharging eight hundred tons of general freight, which is consigned to this port. It includes large shipments of tea, porcelain, sugar, rice, miso and furniture. She has a cargo of silk for Seattle valued at over half a million dollars. Many passengers are also being brought across the Pacific on her, including a great number of Orientals for Victoria.

With every stateroom aboard her taken and not an inch of space in her holds available, the liner Inaba Maru, Capt. Tominga, of the same line, left port this afternoon for the Orient. Many persons who wished to take passage on the vessel had to be refused tickets as there were no berths left. Several passengers joined the steamship at this port. The cargo consisted principally of wheat and flour, loaded at Tacoma and Seattle. Considerable machinery and general merchandise was also stowed in her holds and she had approximately 7,000 tons of cargo.

FIERCE FIGHT ON CANNERY VESSEL

Star of Greenland Makes Port With Two Men in Irons

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 24.—With two men in irons and reporting a rough passage, the Alaska Packers ship Star of Greenland, Captain Peterson, arrived in yesterday, 14 days from Seattle, bringing 85,162 cases of salmon. While the packet was off the Golden Gate, Seimon Mabele and Bengaro Pattero, Filipino cannery hands, became involved in a quarrel over gambling debts. The little brown fellows drew knives and slashed one another before they were restrained. The combatants were turned over to the authorities upon the vessel's arrival.

The Star of Greenland was in heavy weather similar to that encountered by several vessels off the northern coast recently. From October 10 to 13, the windjammer labored heavily in terrific seas against strong gales. The cannery hands were locked below, as the seas had full play of the decks, washing everything movable overboard and flooding the cabin and forecastle.

The schooner Ethel Zane which arrived here yesterday from Gray's Harbor with lumber will proceed to Tacoma after discharging. She has been chartered to load her next lumber cargo at that port.

The British barque Battle Abbey left yesterday for Astoria. She will load lumber for Australia.

FIRST OF SEALERS BACK FROM CRUISE

PESCAWA TOWED INTO PORT WITH GOOD CATCH

Outsailed Other Schooners From Bering Sea—Members of Crew Desert Ship

Outsailing all the other vessels of the sealing fleet in a race home from the Behring Sea, having branded six members of her crew as deserters, and with a total catch of 703 seals, the schooner Pescawa (Captain Balcom) arrived in port last night at 8 o'clock, tying up at McQuade's wharf, where she will unload her skins. The crack little vessel has been away from port nine months and twenty-four days, having sailed from this port for the California coast before the closing of last year. Nothing occurred to make the trip what might be described as eventful, except for rough weather, which for days at a stretch made it impossible to launch a boat to chase the seals.

Relating in his seamanlike style the trip from start to finish, one of the men who made the cruise, spun a yarn to a Times' representative this morning. After getting clear from this port with a white crew, the Pescawa headed for the California coast to hunt the seals. She was the first of the sealers to leave this port, being followed by the Thomas P. Bayard several months later. Splendid weather was encountered during the run to the south, and seldom were storms prevalent while she remained in the south. Although the seals were not as plentiful as in former years, the Pescawa succeeded in capturing quite a number. On April 7 the schooner headed north, following the seals, and a few weeks later called at Unalakleet to land her skins. Up to this time she had 345 pelts.

After taking on stores and provisions at the west coast port, the Pescawa headed for the sea off grounds. The schooner was unsuccessful in securing one pelt, partly owing to the rough weather, and partly to the seals being too far off. After spending several futile weeks trying to land the valuable sea animals, the Pescawa headed north, and it was when she was cruising about in Hecate Straits that the alleged deserting incident occurred. Two boats left the ship to look for seals, and nothing more was heard of them until some time later, when it was learned they had reached Prince Rupert. It is stated that the members of each boat arranged to "jump the job," and that the story of their hardships received here was a bluff. One of the members of the ship's crew stated that the men of one of the boats had their belongings taken from them and the others concealed theirs in the boat when they left the ship. The steward says that they had sufficient food in their boats to last them for a week.

They reached Prince Rupert after being picked up by a passing vessel, and stated that they had not separated from the Pescawa in a fog and had suffered terrible hardships in getting to civilization. Proceeding north the Pescawa called at Unalakleet for water and then entered Behring Sea. Throughout the time the ship was there she encountered nothing but a series of south and southeast gales, and there were very few days in which the seals were able to hunt. After roughing it for many weeks the Pescawa headed for English Bay, and together with the Thomas P. Bayard (Capt. Blackstad) and the Lady Mine (Capt. Delouchy) she sailed for Victoria on October 10. Two days after leaving the Pescawa had dropped anchor in the harbor, far astern, and some time later she overhauled the Jessie (Capt. Geo. Heater), which was reported as arriving at Clayoquot yesterday morning. George Allan was the head hunter this trip, capturing over one hundred seals.

It is expected that the Jessie will arrive here this afternoon. She sailed from Clayoquot yesterday afternoon, and the tug Dorothy was sent out this morning to pick her up. The Jessie has 573 skins, the smallest catch of the fleet. No doubt the other vessels will be putting in an appearance to-morrow or the next day. The Thomas P. Bayard has the best catch, having taken 840 seals and seven sea otters, and the Lady Mine 592.

The total catch of seals this year, 2,708, is small compared with last year, when over four thousand pelts were taken. This is the last year for the sealers for the next 15 years, owing to the sealing treaty arranged at Washington, D. C., this summer between Russia, Canada, Japan and the United States. The schooner will be laid up in the upper harbor on their arrival, and the owners have not yet announced as to whether they will utilize them in any other business while the ban is placed on sealing or not.

MATSON LINE'S RICH CARGO.

Honolulu Clears From Seattle for Hawaiian Island With $2,000,000 of Freight.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 24.—When the Matson liner Honolulu sailed for the Hawaiian Islands to-day she carried 12,000 tons of cargo valued at $2,000,000, which is not only the largest load ever shipped from Puget Sound to Honolulu, but the largest "all-Washington" cargo ever assembled. It is composed of flour, bran, barley, potatoes, lumber, shoes, mattresses, hats, hardware, beer, and canned salmon.

The White Star Line, Liverpool, cables that the steamship Olympic, which was rammed by the British war vessel Hawke, soon after leaving Southampton on September 19, and which since has been undergoing repairs at Belfast, will definitely sail from Southampton November 29, and from New York December 9, and schedule dates thereafter.

CLAIMS TRAWLER IS NOT SAFELY LOADED

Kingsway's Crew Refuse to Leave Rupert on Her—Deck Within 2 Inches of Water

Prince Rupert, Oct. 24.—The large steam trawler Kingsway, of Vancouver, belonging to the Standard Fish & Fertilizer Company, is lying at the wharf at Prince Rupert with steam up ready to go to sea, but her crew refuse to move a hand declaring that the vessel is so loaded down as to be unsafe. For two days the captain and mate have been trying to get the men to take the ship but without success.

The vessel, which, sometime ago came out from England, has on a big cargo of coal for the fertilizer plant at Paooff on Moresby Island. Her decks are piled high with coal and are down to within two inches of the water's level. The crew are very bitter at there being no Pilmoor or other official load mark. They offered to pay the cost of having Captain Musgrave, of the government hydrographic steamship Lillooet make an independent report on the vessel's safety. This Captain Musgrave declined to do, stating that he had no authority to act.

Captain Brown, skipper of the Kingsway, obtained a document from the customs surveyor to the effect: "I have boarded the steamer Kingsway at 10:30 a. m. on Sunday morning, October 22, and found the said ship fit for sea." The men refuse to recognize the authority of the customs surveyor. The officers of the Kingsway refuse to pay the men off, or to release them from their articles unless they procure substitutes willing to go to sea in the ship. The Kingsway has been tied up all day Sunday and Monday and there is still no signs of a settlement.

DRIFTS NEARLY HALF WAY ROUND PLANET

Life Preservers of Vessel Wrecked on Japanese Coast Found on Shetland Islands

Drifting half way around the globe, a life preserver from the wreck of the steamship Stanley Dollar, which went ashore on the Japanese coast in August, 1905, was picked up recently on the beach at Cullivick, Shetland Islands, according to word received in this city yesterday from San Francisco. A letter has been received by Stanley Dollar, of the Dollar Steamship Co., at Frisco, written by John Gear, of Cullivick, whose son is in the employ of the Dollar company.

Whether the drifting cork-jacket made its way to the other side of the world by currents sweeping around the Cape of Good Hope or Cape Horn, or whether it navigated the northwest passage, is a mystery to seamen of the coast.

Although the preserver had been in the water more than six years and had drifted more than 10,000 miles, the name of the steamship was said to be clearly deciphered, as were also the words, "Passed by J. G. S. F. California, June 1, 1905." "J. G." is said by customs officers to be Inspector James Guthrie of San Francisco, who passed on the safety appliances on the vessel a short time before she left on her last voyage.

The life preserver will be sent to Frisco and kept as a memento by the Dollar company.

MARINE NOTES

The schooner Luzon, on Gray's Harbor now, has been chartered by Hal-ford, Guthrie & Co., to load lumber there for Valparaiso orders.

The Blue Funnel liner Oanfa, with cargo of general freight from this and other Sound ports for the Orient and Liverpool, is reported arriving at Yokohama Sunday.

Although navigation is finished and the stages hereafter will give service to Dawson, no ice has yet appeared in the Yukon, making this the most phenomenal late season in the history of this territory.

The steamers Elsa and Laderer, discharging coal at Honolulu from Australia, have received orders to return to Newcastle in ballast. With the fixture of the Solveig and withdrawal of these two vessels, the Pacific coast is now bare of disengaged tramp steamers.

The power schooner, Bender Bros., as announced Sunday by Capt. Louis Knaflich, may make another voyage to the north this season. One of the large fishing companies has opened negotiations with him to bring out a cargo of salmon. Capt. Knaflich states also that the vessel may be sold, if he fails to get the charter under consideration he will lay up for the winter in the east waterway.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE WHEN GLIDER CAPSIZES

O. Wright's Machine Dashes
to Ground—Birdman
Slightly Shaken

Kill Devil, N. C., Oct. 24.—Orville Wright had a narrow escape yesterday when his glider turned over in the air and dashed to the ground. The machine was disabled, but can be repaired for flights to-day or to-morrow. Wright was slightly shaken up. The accident was the second with which the machine has met. Wright had made one short glide, and was essaying a second when the glider began to turn turtle slowly. The aviator scrambled nimbly over the machine as it turned, and was on top of it when it dived to earth, bottom side up.

To make travel in the air as safe as on the earth is the purpose of the experiments the Wright brothers are conducting. They are working on their new mechanism designed to keep an aeroplane on an even keel. The Wrights began their work on this problem before 1907. What they have accomplished, if anything, both Orville and Wilbur are keeping in characteristic secrecy. It is expected that their newest mechanism will be sent here and tried on the glider. In some respects the Wright contrivance is said to resemble the aileron device used on the Curtiss biplane and some of the foreign machines. Ailerons are small flaps attached to the main plane. When a tricky gust tilts an aeroplane out of balance, one of the ailerons flops downward while another flops upward. That makes a difference in the air resistance, and helps the aeroplane to settle back to a level.

The device the Wright brothers may try is said to apply this principle with the use of a pendulum hanging into space below the aeroplane. The law of gravity is expected to keep the pendulum hanging straight downward. The upper end of the pendulum will be connected with the ailerons, and as the aeroplane dips from side to side, gravity will cause the pendulum to swing. The swing of the pendulum is depended upon to operate the ailerons up and down and to restore stability.

Until recently all birdmen have looked upon automatic balancing devices with disfavor. It is said that none of them had ever worked quickly enough to restore the balance of an aeroplane after it had lost its equilibrium. A fatal gust of wind, it is said, would do its work in less than a fraction of a second, which the stability device requires to operate. In many cases, hand control has been quick as the wind, and has even anticipated its action, according to the experience and alertness of the aviator.

McNAMARA TRIAL

Only Twenty-Two of Original 125
Veniremen Remain.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 23.—Only eighteen men outside the jurybox and six in it of the original 125 veniremen summoned to try James R. McNamara for murder, remained when court convened to-day at the beginning of the third trial week. No juror had qualified finally.

Three talesmen, Seaborn Manning, Robert Bain and F. D. Green had been "passed" or temporarily accepted by both sides.

Within a few minutes after court opened Talesmen A. C. Robinson and A. R. McIntosh had been excused by Judge Bordwell, leaving only twenty-three talesmen and veniremen. Both men said they were opposed to conviction in a capital case on circumstantial evidence.

The ruling of the court on Talesman George W. McKee, who believes the Times building was blown up by dynamite, was the business before the court to-day which attracted the keenest interest.

ABANDONS FLIGHT

BIG GAME HUNTERS BACK FROM NORTH

Bring Many Trophies as Result of Trip—Game Reported Plentiful

Vancouver, Oct. 24.—Trophies of the achievements of big game hunters in northern British Columbia are piled high in the basement of the Hotel Vancouver. The collection includes goat, sheep, moose and caribou heads, as well as grizzly and other pelts destined to adorn the walls of English manor houses and castles.

Exceptional good luck was experienced by Capt. Douglas Pennant, late of the Grenadier Guards, who travelled by land and sea all the way from the Sudan to enjoy the big hunting between Telegraph Creek and Dease Lake. After a brief holiday in England the visitor, who has ample means to enjoy his favorite sport, will return to Africa. His sole companions on the recent outing were a number of Indian guides.

The retired officer went in via Fort Wrangell, Alaska, ascending the Stikine to Telegraph Creek, and thence hunting northwards in the direction of Dease Lake along the route of the Yukon telegraph line. He left Telegraph Creek on August 22, and reached there on the return trip on October 12. With characteristic modesty the visitor declined to enumerate his achievements, but admitted that he had experienced splendid sport. He was fortunate enough to secure one grizzly besides goat and sheep, and two varieties of deer.

No less successful were half a score or more of British and American hunters who invaded the same remote region this season. Lord Lascelles, of the Grenadier Guards and former military secretary to the governor at Ottawa, and a friend, M. W. Ward, of London, Eng., are guests at the Hotel Vancouver. They have just returned from the Telegraph Creek district.

The various other hunters up there this season included Messrs. Sheppard and Wilson, London, Eng.; Bond, of Boston; Moyes, of St. Louis; Roach, of New York; and Augsburg, of San Francisco.

All the visitors are agreed that while the country is difficult of access, it constitutes a veritable sportsman's paradise. Indians reported that game was more plentiful this season than for several years past.

CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 24.—John Taylor Channel, a veteran of the American Civil war, aged 82, was tried for murder at the Assize court here yesterday but the jury found that he was guilty only of manslaughter and the judge deferred sentence.

Channel was alleged to have killed a man named McCutcheon who visited his shack at Hastings in company with a man and woman. Most of the party were drunk and a quarrel arose during which Channel ordered McCutcheon out of the shack. Channel stated when examined on his own behalf that a struggle for the gun took place and the weapon went off, wounding McCutcheon fatally. Evidence was given that Channel's character previously had been irreproachable.

COLD IN THE CHEST?

RUB WELL WITH ZAM-BUK!

For bad colds on the chest, rub the chest and between the shoulders well with Zam-Buk at night.

If you suffer from catarrh or cold in the head, just insert a little Zam-Buk at the base of the nostril, and as the balm becomes warm, inhale the healing essences which vaporize.

Sores in the nostril, which are sometimes set up by catarrh, will yield to Zam-Buk treatment.

Mrs. N. S. Babcock, of Matawatchesan, Ont., says: "For a long time I had a very disagreeable sore on the inside of the nostril, which gave me great pain and caused much annoyance. I feared it would turn to cancer, and all I tried proved unavailing. I was ordered to try Zam-Buk, and I am glad to say that the sore that defied all other remedies was overcome by one box of Zam-Buk, and is now quite healed."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, eczema, blood-poison, piles, cuts, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet!

FOUND FOSSILS

South Vancouver, Oct. 23.—In excavating for the basement of a dwelling which he is about to erect, Walter Noretsky, of East Collingwood, made an interesting discovery in the shape of some fossilized specimens which he avers resemble closely shells of mollusks and seaweeds of various kinds. If Mr. Noretsky's find is really what he thinks it is, further search may prove valuable in establishing proof that a certain portion of the municipality was at one time part and parcel of the Pacific Ocean.

NANAIMO PIONEER DEAD

Nanaimo, Oct. 23.—The death occurred here of Mrs. Mary Ann Fielding, relict of the late Richard Fielding, one of the best known residents of the district having resided hereabouts for upwards of 40 years.

The death of Mrs. Fielding occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles House, with whom she has made her home for a number of years. The deceased was 72 years of age and is survived by five sons, Joseph, Fred, Richard, Edward and William, and one daughter, Mrs. Charles House.

CHICKEN RANCHES ON VANCOUVER ISLAND

Many Inquiries Reaching Development League—Pre-emptors Taking Up Land

The practical work of settlement of Vancouver Island, no easy task when the actual difficulties are considered, is being materially advanced by the Development League. Several pre-emptors who took up land some time since, and had returned east to wind up their affairs in the districts from whence they had come, have now come back to the island and proceeded north and west to their holdings. These men are grateful to the League for the information afforded, and several promises have been received of boosting the island in different parts of the continent.

The league has also been able to place the owners of suitable lands for poultry ranches in touch with those who require them, with the result that the bureau has been able to congratulate itself on some actual business of this character completed during the last few days.

The large importations of produce of this character from the adjacent provinces and the neighboring states of the American Union have been the subject of much comment for several years, and the folly of a young country like British Columbia depending on outside sources of supply for farm produce has been frequently pointed out. The egg-laying competition which has just commenced may do something to spread information as to the best type of bird to keep, when laying qualities rather than a good general purpose bird are the prime objects, and more attention may be given to this side line of agriculture, which has been practically neglected so far as Vancouver Island is concerned.

The advent of men of capital from the old country who wish to invest in these branches of agriculture, of which the league has received many inquiries of late, promise to do something for the development of this industry, and the league will achieve no small part of its object if it secures this class of settler to interest himself in this neglected branch of country life.

RETURNED UNOPPOSED

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—George Lawrence, the new Provincial minister of agriculture, was re-elected by acclamation for Killarney yesterday.

The network of Standard Oil pipe lines annually transports 50,000,000 barrels of crude petroleum from wells to its 21 refineries. This 55,000-mile system cost $61,000,000 to build.

NEW BLOCKS FOR FORT AND DOUGLAS

Building for Year Will Pass
$3,000,000 Mark—$400,000 in Sight for October

There remain three buildings at the corner of Fort and Douglas streets to be dealt with before the widening of Fort street is complete and these are now in the hands of the contractors for the purpose, work on one of them being almost completed. The corner when complete will be replaced with new buildings instead of those now there. Dr. O. M. Jones intends erecting a four storey building in place of his present brick building, a new block will replace Terry's drug store and a new block is to be placed on land adjoining the Terry drug store on Douglas street.

The continuation of building month after month has advanced the building figures of the city to $351,225 for this month while for ten months of the year a total of $3,000,000 will be shown. Yesterday permits to the aggregate amount of $25,500 were issued by the building inspector, among them being one for a twelve-room, frame apartment block to be erected by Messrs. Dunford & Strang on Southgate street, to cost $6,000. Mr. H. J. R. Cullen prepared the plans and the contract has been let to Messrs. Dunford & Son. Another $6,000 permit was issued to Messrs. J. E. and B. Wilson for alterations to the Russ House premises, Johnson street. Permits were also issued to William Symons for a brick stable on Discovery street to cost $5,000; to E. Hallison, dwelling on Irvine street, $2,000; to Alfred Sallick, dwelling on Seaview street, $1,500; to W. H. Bigham, additions to

STRATHCONA'S GIFT.

London, Oct. 24.—Lord Strathcona has presented the museum aboard Nelson's Victory with a handsome painting representing the fleet leaving Gibraltar in 1812. The King telegraphed his appreciation of his generous gift.

FORMOSA SUGAR TRADE.

Three Japanese Steamships to Bring Cargoes to Vancouver Sugar Refinery.

Vancouver, Oct. 24.—The development of the Formosa sugar industry is evidenced by the fact that three cargoes have been arranged for by the sugar refinery here. The announcement some time ago of the chartering of the Japanese steamers Ainka Maru Number 2, and the Shiroshima Maru, has been confirmed and announcement has been made of the charter of the Japanese steamer Koan Maru.

These vessels will load in Formosa in February and March and the chartering of a fourth Japanese craft is expected. Outward the vessels will load shipments of dog salmon for Japan.

There has not been a Japanese steamer here since 1908, when the Fuku Maru loaded a full cargo of dog salmon. Incidentally she was in collision with the Princess Royal during her stay in port and members of her crew were also caught by the customs smuggling Japanese goods ashore for sale to the Japanese fishermen at Cook's slip.

BANQUET TO SIR W. WHYTE.

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—The banquet to Sir William Whyte at the Royal Alexandra to-night, an opportunity which has been seized by his friends throughout the west representing every branch of industry to mark their appreciation of the great work he has done towards the development of Western Canada, promises to be the most successful affair of its kind ever held here. Besides a host of local notables, the guests will include some of the most prominent men in Canadian public life. A feature of the evening will be the presentation of a very handsome silver service. Among the following from Vancouver: General Superintendent Buested, General Passenger Agent Brodie and Division and Freight Agent Graham.

POLITICAL ASPECT OF ISLAM MOVEMENT

Rev. J. H. Bateson Thinks Cross
Has Made Little Progress in Lands of Crescent

On a visit from Toronto, where he attended the Ecumenical Conference of the Methodist church, is Rev. J. H. Bateson, secretary of the army and navy board of the Wesleyan church of Great Britain, and practically in consequence chaplain general of the forces for that important denomination. For 23 years he was in India, where he visited every part of the great peninsula, and spent his vacations travelling in the unknown frontier countries, having covered the continent from Aden to Singapore, and from the Afghanistano frontier to the extreme south. He has shot and hunted in the Pamirs and crossed Tibet, and during that time has given special attention to a study of the religions of the Orient.

Mr. Bateson was associated with the moral reform movement inaugurated in the British army under Lord Roberts, and the total abstinence among many and higher moral character of most of the men was in no small way due to his energetic work for years.

The visitor expressed his satisfaction with the remarkable growth of Canada, during a conversation with a Times representative last evening, and then passed on to discuss the subject which has been his hobby for years.

Speaking of the growth of Mohammedanism, he said: "It is the conquering power in Africa, a conquering power in India; it holds its own in Turkey and Persia, despite the awakening, and Arabia and Afghanistan continue to be closed lands so far as Christianity is concerned, and it is clear that Mohammedanism is a terrific power still, and it is the one religion which the Church of Christ deliberately and definitely has failed to win to allegiance to Christ. Mohammedanism lies straight across the stream of progress in Moslem lands, where Islam holds its own. It is impossible to introduce anything like western ideas, because the people take these ideas as opposed to their religion. The idea prevails that anything which is opposed to Mohammedanism must necessarily be wrong.

"No real progress in education or in any other direction is possible while the present view of Islamism holds the Islamic world. In India there is a movement in Islamism, I was in the great mosque at Delhi and heard one of the ablest preachers—I think he came from Mesopotamia—ask: 'For what purpose do you say your prayers five times a day?' and after reciting the duties laid on good Moslems, saying: 'Is it not your aim to conquer the world?' Thus muhammad saw the new movement in Mohammedanism, saw that it might become a world power. Who can tell what the womb of the future holds?"

For the first time the Koran during the past two years has been translated from Arabic into the vernacular of the Indian peninsula. Of course it had been translated into English and other European languages before, but only for the education of the people of the west, but the Mohammedan world considers that Arabic is as sacred a language as Islamism is the sacred religion, and it is only now they are willing to give to the people of India the Koran in the vernacular. This shows the awakening in Islamism, and it is set out to the people as a world conquering power.

"In all this new movement of the Hindus the Mohammedans have no sympathy. None of the prominent Mohammedans in India or its 315,000,000 people has taken any important part in the Swadeshi movement, nor does its workings move them. Their loyalty is unquestioned."

Referring to Buddhism which he had carefully studied, he said he had visited the frontier, where it still exists, it has ceased to be any power for good, because it has absorbed so much that in order to carry on its conquests it has admitted so much of Hinduism that it has lost its peculiar character, and in its degenerate state it cannot be expected to accomplish anything because it has no clear cut message to deliver.

Mr. Bateson would have liked to lecture here, but his time was too short for making the necessary arrangements, as he finds that the Canadian public takes great interest in the religions of the east.

Of the Sikh movement to this country, which has provided such a keen difference of opinion, Mr. Bateson said: "I have visited their cities, and have been in their great temple at Amritsar, and have been impressed again and again with their fidelity as servants and their loyalty as soldiers. They saved India in the mutiny, and have proved their capacity as colonists in the irrigated lands of the Punjab, and as one who fought side by side with them in Burma, I wish to recognize their truly soldierly and heroic qualities."

Mr. Bateson wished to acknowledge the abounding hospitality of the Canadians, and to say how much he had enjoyed his trip through Canada, and hoped to be out here again. He leaves for the east to-morrow.

RUINED THROUGH CHARITY.

Among the inmates of Swansea Workhouse at the present time is a woman who has wealthy relatives in London, and who at one time had a fortune of between $50,000 and $60,000. She gave it all away to charities.

Although she had been in the workhouse some time, all efforts to get her to disclose her identity were in vain. But whilst her clothing was going through the laundry recently an address was found concealed in her skirt, and by this means the relatives were communicated with.

Her brother visited her a few days ago, and the family made arrangements for the lady's return to London.

A curious incident happened a little while ago. The mysterious woman appeared at Swansea Cottage Homes, and, believing she was a lady government inspector, the children—were paraded before her. An inspection of the homes was made, and she was entertained to tea. Then she went back to the workhouse.

MARKET FOR B. C. HERRING FOR ORIENT

Canadian Trade Commissioner
Says There is Unlimited
Opening

Vancouver, Oct. 24.—There is an unlimited market for British Columbia herring in the Orient. Last year Shanghai merchants placed orders for $1,000,000 worth in gold, but owing to the partial failure of the catch only secured 20,000 of the 40,000 cases they required.

"I am in receipt of a letter from my private secretary stating that one Chinese firm had recently cabled to Vancouver to place a single order for $135,000 worth in gold, but a reply came back the next day that no contracts would be entered into," said J. B. Jackson, Canadian trade commissioner at Shanghai, who with his family are en route to China. Mr. Jackson has been on sick leave and devoted the holiday to a tour through Alberta and Saskatchewan.

"British Columbia herring are regarded as a great delicacy by the Chinese and sell over there at from $30 to $40 per ton. I trust that the catch this season will prove a good one as the business is in sight and will continue to grow. Formerly the trade was in the hands of Japanese who imported the herring from Canada and sold them as Japanese fish in Chinese markets. The Chinese merchants have now cut out the middlemen and want to deal direct with Canadians. I would caution parties doing business with China to see that their contracts are made on a gold basis as the value of the tael fluctuates. The Shanghai tael has a face value of 67 cents, but it has recently declined 12 cents owing to the general unrest prevailing and the domestic troubles which have just reached a crisis."

Mr. Jackson declined to discuss the rebellion now in progress there. He pointed out, however, that if the press reports of the victories of the rebels were correct, a vast region extending inland for 1,500 miles had declared against the Manchu dynasty. The visitor is confident that trade relations with Canada will improve when the present troubles shall have been adjusted. He is strongly of the belief that the interests of Canadian trade will be vastly improved by the appointment of a deputy commissioner with headquarters at Hongkong. Owing to its remoteness from Shanghai he is unable to keep an eye on that important free port whose commerce with Southern China, including Canton, is enormous.

JAPANESE POLITENESS.

In the course of an article in the National Review E. Bruce Mitford says: The Japanese language, as spoken in the metropolis and other large centres, abounds in honorifics and various courteous forms of speech. In the interior, however, it is noticeable that these are sparingly used. The difference conveys a moral, to wit, that the excessive and formal politeness which is characteristic of the Japanese citizen is replaced, in his rural counterpart, by the genuine article. Indeed, the experience of all who have travelled extensively in the interior is that, the remoter the region the greater the sincerity and kindness of the people. On the other hand, there is no denying that, for a variety of reasons, the worst type of Japanese is to be found closest to Western civilization, i.e., in the vicinity of the former treaty ports. At least three types of Japanese, therefore, are presented to the observer from the West, viz., the ultra-ceremonious and official, whose extreme civility somehow conveys the impression that it is only on the surface; the scheming and unscrupulous, of the parasitic order, frequenting the treaty ports; and the rough but kindly folk of the mountain districts.

WOMAN'S EXCHANGE FORMED IN CITY

Meeting in Alexandra Club Resolves to Organize—Enthusiasm for the Idea

That Victoria is to have a woman's exchange is an assured fact. At a most successful meeting of the ladies interested, who had assembled in the committee room of the Alexandra Club yesterday, the various items in regard to financing the undertaking were gone into with much enthusiasm and interest. Mrs. Hazel presided over the meeting and a paper on the re-organizing of the exchange was read by Mrs. Crease. She pointed out the superiority of the united effort as opposed to private enterprise, which latter she claimed was a great deal more liable to failure than the former. Considering the legal aspect of their effort she explained under the laws of British Columbia, which govern the formation of co-operative societies, seven persons are required to attest before a notary their wish to form such a co-operation or to carry on a trade or any number of trades. In regard to the regulation of capital, it was agreed that a limited number of shares should be held by each single individual member—not to exceed fifty, and that dividends be paid in proportion to capital held and stock purchased.

It was resolved that the people gathered were willing to promote the Woman's Exchange under the idea of co-operation, and a quorum consisting of the following ladies was appointed: Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. Halliday, Mrs. McMicking, Mrs. H. E. Gillis, Mrs. H. C. Ferree, Mrs. Priestly, Mrs. Napier, Mrs. Scrivon, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Van Sant, and Mrs. Henry Bell. Mrs. Halliday was then unanimously elected organizing manager of the exchange.

Mrs. Richards, who is probably the best informed on the subject of woman's exchange, gave a splendid idea of the subject. Mrs. Richards has visited all the larger exchanges in the leading cities for the purpose of getting details on which to work in Victoria. "To run a woman's exchange apart from a tea room and lunch counter and run it successfully is an impossibility," she said. She explained the possibilities before the exchange and said it would be a benefit to the woman who works for it and for the woman who trades with it. She also explained the benefit to be derived from an immediate start as the holidays were soon at hand and purchasers would welcome a place of this sort in which to secure hand-made articles. It will take another meeting to bring all the details of the exchange to a proper head and at this meeting all those who are so anxiously waiting for a place like this in which to find a sale for their hand work should try to attend, as at that meeting the affairs of the producer should be rounded out.

Yesterday's meeting brought out the fact that there were fifty potential shareholders in the room then.

The ladies attending were as follows: Mrs. McMicking, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Anthony, Mrs. H. Ware, Mrs. H. C. Ferree, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Hazel, Mrs. Halliday, Mrs. H. E. Gillis, Mrs. Napier, Mrs. Scrivon, Mrs. Priestly, Mrs. Gould, Miss Lawson, Mrs. Van Sant, Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. Crease and Mrs. Henry Bell, Mrs. Monte, Mrs. F. J. Hutchins.

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms: shooting pains over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

WHY THE NEWSPAPER IS THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM

Because it reaches the Housekeeper, the Business Man, and the Retired Gentleman daily. It is something that the public MUST have—it goes into the homes and on the street daily—it is the town crier for news, real estate and merchandise.

To advertise in the daily newspaper means reaching more people at the same time than any other known method of advertising.

For a nominal sum we are prepared to take over the management of your newspaper advertising in or outside of Victoria.

AUTO ENTHUSIASTS FOR GOOD ROADS

Convention Will Be Held at New Westminster Early in November

New Westminster, Oct. 23.—For the first time since the good roads movement was started in the west, now about two years ago, men from each side of the international boundary will meet in a Canadian city on November 3 and 4, when the first convention of enthusiasts will be held in Westminster. At this gathering will be representatives from as far south as Portland and San Francisco, as far east as Winnipeg and as far west as Alberni. The "farthest north" representative will come from either Fort George or Prince Rupert, but acceptance to the invitations sent to those places has not yet been received.

The list of speakers will include men of influence and standing in Westminster, Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Tacoma, Bellingham, Spokane, San Francisco, Portland, Calgary, Winnipeg and possibly Chicago, as Arthur C. Jackson, president of the National Good Roads Association, has written that he will attend the meeting if he can possibly arrange his proposed trip to the coast to take place during the last week in October and the first week in November. The programme of addresses to be given at the meeting will be finally drawn up towards the end of this week.

A. E. Todd, of Victoria, is taking great interest in the preliminary arrangements for the convention and has promised to head a strong delegation from the west. The convention will meet at the Hotel Vancouver, and other island points.

The convention was discussed at a meeting of the board of trade, A. E. Todd, president of the board, said it seemed to him the automobile members of the board ought to take this matter in hand. He suggested that Mr. Kerr and Dr. Holmes be asked to act as a special committee, and through the secretary notify all the members of the board to identify themselves with the convention.

Mr. Todd said he hoped the meeting would appoint someone else. Dr. Holmes was president and the speaker was vice-president of the Automobile Club; but this was not a matter for autoists alone, but for every citizen. Good roads would open up the agricultural districts and promote business. There would be moving pictures showing the construction of the Pacific highway, and farms and other places along the highway before construction and after.

The president amended his suggestion. It would be a good thing, he thought, if the roads and bridges committee would take the matter up and secure as much information as possible. "When these conventions come here," said he, "it is up to the business men to show interest in them."

Mr. Sinclair proposed that the matter be left to the roads and bridges committee to take up at once.

The chairman approved, but suggested the addition of Mr. Sinclair's name to the committee. He further suggested that the committee be empowered to add to its number.

Mr. Ryall moved in terms of the suggestions made by the chairman and the motion was adopted.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOTS HIMSELF
 Vernon, Oct. 23.—Another distressing fatality has resulted from the accidental discharge of firearms. Frank McCluskey was the victim, and the circumstances are made doubly sad from the fact that some twelve years ago his brother lost his life in almost exactly a similar way.

Mr. McCluskey who was a young man about 20 years of age, an employee at S. C. Smith's shoe and door factory, was on a hunting trip on the commongage in company with two companions, W. Wilson and W. Bickard. They rested for lunch at an old stable near Jas. Bailey's farm, young McCluskey and Bickard sitting down on the stable floor, while Wilson continued his walk a few yards further on. Bickard did not see exactly how the accident occurred, as he was sitting with his back partly turned to his companion, when he was startled by the discharge of McCluskey's gun. It seems, however, that in laying down the gun, the hammer struck against a portion of the floor, and the contents were discharged into the left lung, carrying with them portions of the clothing. This occurred about 1.30 o'clock and assistance was soon procured at Mr. Bailey's home, and the unfortunate young man was driven to the hospital where medical assistance was procured. It was at once seen, however, that his condition was hopeless and he passed away about 8 o'clock that evening.

The deceased was the youngest son of Mrs. W. Furniss, of Seventh street.

JUDGE HOWAY HONORED.

New Westminster, Oct. 23.—Post No. 4 Native Sons of British Columbia has resolved upon the admission of the first honorary member. The gentleman whom the post has decided to honor is his honor, Judge Howay. The meeting was one of the best in the history of the post, members being present to the number of 50.

Alderman Johnston, grand treasurer of the Post of British Columbia and treasurer of the local post, spoke of the very excellent address delivered by Judge Howay on the occasion of the unveiling of the Simon Fraser monument, and moved that the judge be made an honorary member of the post. This was seconded by Past Chief Factor Matthew J. Phillips, in a few apposite and commendatory remarks, and passed unanimously.

His honor, Judge Howay, will be asked to be present at the next regular meeting of the post, to be received by the chief factor and welcomed by the members.

COST OF SMELTING ORE REDUCED

President of Granby Consolidated Company on Operations of Past Year

Phoenix, Oct. 23.—President Luther of the Granby Consolidated, has the following to say regarding operations for the year ended June 30 last:

"Expenses have been reduced, and average cost per ton of ore has been less than in any previous year. Had we been able to operate at full capacity this cost would have been further lessened materially. Difficulties in obtaining coke supplies, and finally the strike of all coal mines in British Columbia and Alberta, have added to costs.

"Our plants were never in better condition. All renewals, repairs, and developments have been charged to expenses, as well as all dividends received from investments, have been credited to their respective accounts, thus reducing their book value, instead of considering them as profits.

"All developments at the Hidden Creek property fully confirm the information furnished by our engineers. These reports now appear to have been, if anything, too conservative. It is hoped that production will commence on a small scale before the end of 1912.

"Mine development during the year consisted of 8,894 feet, and diamond drilling 8,207 feet. Granby ore smelted amounted to 569,563 dry tons, and foreign ore to 24,783 dry tons.

General manager Graves says: "Net earnings were not at all satisfactory, amounting to $217,416.

"The mines at Phoenix produced and shipped 356,563 tons of ore, against 1,125,548 tons shipped last year for the same period. The cost of production was one per cent per ton greater than the previous year, while the cost of smelting was reduced three cents per ton. I consider this excellent work in view of the conditions that prevailed at both the mines and smelter.

"The mines at Phoenix to date have produced and shipped a total of 7,239,914 tons. On July 1, 1910, there were 6,429,196 tons of ore estimated in sight. During the past twelve months 1,248,283 tons have been blocked out. Shipments during this period were 957,209 tons.

"More energy has been put into development of outside properties and in securing other properties than in the development of the Phoenix property. The intent has been, however, to develop as much ore each year as is shipped. Diamond drills will be put down from time to time to prove the continuance of ore bodies in various locations.

"The stockholders can congratulate themselves upon the purchase of the Hidden Creek mines, which has practically doubled out ore reserves. It is reasonable to assume that the cost of producing copper will be less at the Hidden Creek property than it has been at our plant at Grand Forks."

SAYS RICH COUNTRY HAS BEEN OVERLOOKED

Mining Man Returns From Trip Through Neighborhood of Quatsino Sound

Vancouver, Oct. 23.—G. D. Beveridge, a mining man, formerly of Butte, Montana, has returned from an inspection of the Old Sport and Merry Widow groups of claims, near the north end of Vancouver Island, twenty-seven miles from Quatsino Sound. He went in via Alert Bay, and surmounted the Ninkmah range before reaching the properties near Kathleen Lake. Mr. Beveridge expressed the belief that the propositions have the earmarks of big copper-gold producers, but thus far no development work has been done, with the exception of several open cuts.

The properties are situated on the east and north sides of Elk mountain, at an elevation of about 5,500 feet. One deposit, he stated, has a width of 294 feet, with contacts of lime and diorite, and is covered with a magnetic iron cap. "The copper is a chalcocite, with intrusions of copper glaucophane. He also examined a parallel ledge which measured a width of 70 feet. At several points where erosion had taken place the copper ore is fully exposed. Two samples of copper pyrite, excluding the copper glaucophane, a rich form of ore, were taken and gave an assay return of $45.40 and $25 per ton respectively in copper, gold and silver. The copper values ran 22.7 and 12.5 per cent respectively. The gold averages over a dollar per ton, with over an ounce in silver.

Mr. Beveridge will recommend that a waterpower in the vicinity be harnessed, and the energy utilized in driving a long tunnel underneath the big showing. He states that easy transportation can be provided by building tram lines to connect with Alice and Kathleen lakes, which are navigable. The shipping port will be on Rupert Arm, Quatsino Sound.

"The country south of the property appears to be comparatively level and some day Elk River valley will develop into a farming district," said Mr. Beveridge. "Small fruits of various kinds grow there in profusion. The timber is good, and consists of fir, cedar and hemlock. The rivers and lakes are teeming with fish. I am surprised that so rich a country has been overlooked. There is not even a pack trail in there yet. Quatsino is one of the finest inland harbors in the world."

Evans Thomas, of October Mansions, was married in Ilwaco, Wash., to Miss Mary Edith, daughter of Capt. James Walcombe, of Portland, Oregon, on the 12th of the month.

An engagement of much interest has been announced in that of Miss Gladys E. Provis, eldest daughter of Charles Provis, "Glenarm," Craigflower road, to Mr. Alexander Reach, of 1043 Sutej street, late of Glasgow, Scotland.

Guest-day cards may be secured at the Alexandra Club for the first guest day to be held on Thursday afternoon next, at the club. Madame Hughes Thomas and the ladies of the Welsh Ladies Choir will be the guests.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Mary-Griess to Mr. William-Alex. The ceremony will be held in the St. John's church on Saturday, November 4th, and the reception immediately following at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Calderwood, at 688 Niagara street.

The ladies of the First Baptist church held a birthday social on Friday evening. A splendid programme was enjoyed and a social hour, when refreshments were served, followed the entertainment. The contribution was a liberal one and much appreciated by the Ladies' Aid.

Miss Helen Reynar, daughter of Prof. Reynar, of Victoria University, Toronto, is en route to Winnipeg after a delightful visit in this city with Mrs. C. L. Armstrong of "Lisnaska," Richmond avenue. Miss Reynar is to join Mr. and Mrs. Munson at Winnipeg, when they will immediately start for a European trip for the holidays.

At the Alexandra Club ball room the annual ball to be given by the Women's Auxiliary Society, Provincial Royal Jubilee hospital, is scheduled to take place on the 3rd of November, and those desiring to obtain tickets may do so by applying to the following places: Mrs. P. KITCHENETTE STOVE.

Folds Up Against the Wall When It Is Not in Use.

The New York man who invented the stove here depicted, probably tried to turn around in a kitchenette and the difficulty of this feat suggested having a stove that could be folded up against the wall—for that is what this stove does. As will be seen, there are no legs or other supports. The whole affair

SMART ONE PIECE FALL GOWN.

Here is a gown which will be found invaluable for early fall wear before coats are needed, and afterwards will be ideal for wear under either cloth or fur coat. The material is a lovely shade of tobacco-brown cashmere and the trimming so effectively utilized is Roman embroidery, with reddish-brown and maroon tints predominating. The tiny buttons are brown velvet covered a shade darker than the cashmere.

DYOLA ONE DYE—ALL KINDS OF GOODS

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"She was far too good and honorable a woman to care a particle about truthfulness as a means to an easy conscience; she did not mind how much she suffered if it was necessary to the happiness of others that it should be so."—De Morgan.

"I know nothing on earth would please her so much as to have me sign this letter 'With love,' and I really wanted to, but it wouldn't have been true, so I didn't." The speaker folded her letter with an air of conscious rectitude. She is a young school marm. She was writing to one of her little pupils who is devoted to her. The little girl was seriously ill with a disease that threatened to blind her for life.

I wonder if the Recording Angel put down a very big and shining white mark for that display of rectitude. Do you think he did? The little married lady who has been wearing her touseau for three years acquired a new gown the other day. She has been saving for and planning and thinking about this gown for months. And when it came, it was a mess—no other word could possibly describe it. For some unknown reason the dressmaker had selected that particular gown of which to make the worst batch of the season. Furthermore, the features which made the gown impossible were things which could not be altered.

Can you imagine anyone who would care so much about exact truthfulness as a means to an easy conscience as to tell the little married lady who has been wearing her touseau for three years that her first new gown was totally impossible? And yet I know several people who did. Yes, I can see some of my readers sitting up in shocked surprise and saying, "What's this? Is Ruth Cameron advising me to tell lies to please people?"

I shouldn't put it just that way. But I certainly do think that there are some lies that are more forgivable than some truth telling. I once knew a horse trader who, contrary to precedent, was known and honored in the community as a thorough honest man. He was telling me once how he sold his horses. "I never tell any lies," Miss Cameron, he said. "I just put the horse's best foot forward. I say he has a fine coat and good knee action and a finely shaped head, but I don't mention any of his poor points except, of course, real defects that any honest man would speak of. I never tell any lies and I always sell my horses and I never yet had one turned back on me."

Take that man's ideal of truth and apply it to social relations and I think you have a better happiness-producer than uncompromising, unnecessary truth speaking. There are many kinds of honesty. There is the honesty that sees defects with pitiless eye and mentions them with a consciousness of virtue. There is also an honesty that sees even the jewel in the toad's head and knows when to be silent and when to speak.

Of course this doctrine is one that can easily be distorted to wrong and selfish uses. But the inside heart of us that knows when we are doing wrong, no matter how cleverly we try to deceive it with some intellectual justification, tells us when we do that. So you won't misuse my doctrine that way, will you?

Ruth Cameron

PASSING SHOW

Empress Theatre. The character delineations of Edward Clark, one of the best known actors of America, are to be seen at the Empress theatre, where he opened a week's engagement yesterday, appearing as a very sporty old bachelor, a chorus girl, hobble skirted, and as a pathetic street urchin who drew sob from many in the theatre by the sadness of his face and the pathos in his voice. By the great contrast of his characters with the extravagant girl in between, the male impersonations of Mr. Clark's ability makes the greater impression. Voice, mannerisms and figure are each different with the separate persons he represents, and the audience would be prepared to see Mr. Clark in an encore characterization, for he was compelled to bow his thanks several minutes yesterday.

The medleys of Richard Hamlin are of his own composition. He has composed a hundred or more and sings some of them at the Empress, where he is billed. He dresses in brown and does his best to do everything brown. He sings to the exact taste of an audience that is at the theatre to be entertained and to get enjoyment. His singles are catching and his medleys likely to become popular.

The sketch this week is in the hands of Carlyle Moore and Ethelyn Palmer, who bring a problem tableau of the constant fight between love and ambition. The sketch is called "Ambition." It is remarkable for the accomplished way in which two people play four characters.

A very enjoyable musical entertainment by a duo of youth and beauty who are appearing as The Two Roses, opened the show yesterday. The young belles offered a piano rendition, and obligato per violin and cello, a cello

ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

BUSINESS ASPECT OF AVIATION SCIENCE

Investments in Development of Machines and Accessories for Birdmen

It seems at first glance somewhat premature to rank the new art of flying among the accepted and recognized branches of industry; but on close examination of the actual state of aviation affairs at present there is found ample reason for doing so.

In the past three years an astonishingly large field of commercial and business activity has been built up, that has to do solely with aeronautics.

There are few who have stopped to realize the suggestive fact that more than half a million men are now actively engaged in some industrial enterprise that has to do with navigation of the air.

To fully appreciate the significance of the commercial side of aviation, a knowledge, or at least an acquaintance, must be had with demands on a flying machine, its uses and the commodities whose manufacture, sale or exchange constitute "the trade."

Aeroplane at present are used in three distinct ways: for sport or convenience, in war or postal service, and as a means of profit in exhibitions, etc.

The use of the aeroplane by sportsmen and its use by individuals or corporations as a convenience, is the field best developed at present, and for which the greatest future is predicted.

The use of aeroplanes in war seems already definitely assured.

Exhibition flying, however, is likely, and in fact has begun to decline, although races if sufficiently exciting are likely to persist.

A great impetus to the use of aeroplanes by sportsmen is bound to come soon, with the further development of the motor aeroplane. The market for aeroplanes is considerable as indicated by the volume of sales made by the various companies. M. Bleriot has sold several hundred aeroplanes since the spring of 1909, when he first began manufacturing them on a large scale. He has almost been outdone by the Voisins and Henri Farman, while the Curtiss and Nieuport-Peltier, Sommer, Brequet, Nieuport, and a score of other constructors in France bring the total of actual sales to a surprisingly large figure.

A single-seater Bleriot monoplane costs $24,000 francs, and a two-seater $28,000 francs. This is also the price of Voisin biplanes. A Brequet biplane costs about $4,000, and an Antoinette monoplane is even more expensive. In general, the range of prices in France is from 15,000 to 30,000 francs.

In England the cost of "all-British" machines like the Valkyrie and Humber and Wright runs from $1,500 upward, the price of English made machines being much lower than for those of foreign make.

In the United States there are not over a dozen large and established manufacturing firms, with the Wright, Curtiss and Burgess companies as recognized leaders. The Burgess Co. has sold more than thirty machines; the Wright Co. two or three times as many, and the Curtiss firm also a considerable number. The average price of American machines is $5,000, although the Burgess Co. charges $7,500 for a biplane of the Wright type equipped with a Gnome motor. The sales here at present are much less than abroad.

It may be conservatively estimated that the sales of aeroplanes to date, both here and abroad, amounts to about 1,500. Placing the average price paid for these machines at $5,000, it becomes evident that the volume of business is represented by an outlay of well over $7,000,000.

In England, for example, the import trade from January to August, 1911, is represented by $177,000, and the export trade by $70,000, thus giving an insight into the magnitude of the trade between England and foreign countries. The exports of France and the imports of America are greater, statistics proving that France leads the world in the aeroplane industry.

The Bleriot factory employs about 600 men, and is replete with the most up-to-date facilities. The Wright company has an equally efficient plant of modern buildings, shops and assembly rooms. In fact the growth of most aeroplane factories has been phenomenal, and yet the real lasting market for the aeroplane has been but slightly reached.

Greater even than the trade in aeroplaning, as a unit, has been the activity in the supply and demand for aeroplane accessories from motors and propellers to the minutest parts of metal or wood.

There are fifty or more established firms in this country alone, doing a large business in parts of aeroplanes, like ribs, struts, joints, etc. As in France, propellers are being designed and manufactured by more than ten firms devoted to this alone.

In France the Chauviere company is a large corporation employing many hundred men; with extensive shops, and turning out countless propellers for all types of aircraft.

Many of these separately manufactured parts never get to be used in a full fledged aeroplane, but serve merely for purposes of experiment.

The motor trade is also large, especially in France. The Gnome company pays dividends that few "industrialists" ever reach, and its business grows apace. Many American motors are showing excellent qualities, and are much preferred here to the higher priced foreign motors.

Aeroplane supply houses abroad have ceased to be a novelty and are rapidly becoming a necessity. Even special clothing for aviators is now being made, leather being a favorite material. Numerous kinds of map cases, portable buffets, helmets, searchlights, and horns are offered specially for aeroplaning.

There is also much done in France in the manufacture of instruments for aeronautical work, speedometers, recording altimeters, etc., and a host of other cases and specially mounted compasses.

Coincident with the large trade in aeroplane supplies and in aeroplanes themselves, there has risen a large number of firms in France, acting as aeroplane brokers, receiving orders and transmitting them to the manufacturers. In second hand machines and supplies are also springing up, but their field is still very limited—a second-hand aeroplane is a dangerous investment at best.

Even the profession of the law is called into the aeroplane field to a great extent the number of flourishing patent attorneys giving an indication of the amazing number of patents applied for.

The model aeroplane also plays its part in the industry and many model manufacturers sell several hundred of these toys at prices ranging from $1.50 to $20. Gliders, motorless aeroplanes, are also manufactured and sold, especially in England, where "gliding" is becoming a hobby.

The number of corporations applying for certificates in various states, although only a few survive, gives a further indication of how active the field of aviation is becoming from the business side.

It is not only in the trade and manufacturing of aeroplanes that a large volume of business is found. Activity of another kind, but of equally great importance exists in the cultivation and practice of the art of flying.

A large number of men are employed by private individuals to fly their machines for them, and many manufacturers have a regular staff of expert birdmen to test, exhibit and instruct others on their machines.

Few persons appreciate the actual cost of flying and what it means to keep as delicate a machine as an aeroplane in perfect order. Atwood in his great St. Louis-New York trip, is said to have made over $5,000 in prize money. It is understood on good authority that this failed by a large margin to pay his expenses.

To keep an aeroplane in perfect trim two or three trained mechanics are required. The wages of these men are $30 to $35 a week each, and often more.

A Burgess-Wright aeroplane of the kind used by Atwood requires four gallons of gasoline an hour in flight, the gasoline costing about 20 cents a gallon. Oil, motor accessories, spare parts, etc., also cost a considerable amount. The aeroplane, itself, practically used up in this gruelling campaign, cost $5,000.

In addition Atwood has large expenses for rents of fields and hangars, as well as damages to property, and his own travelling expenses, his manager's salary, etc., are found other sources of expenditure. The grand total amounts to well over $5,000—a rather expensive way to travel.

At the recent aviation meets many of the contestants suffered heavy financial losses. In most cases, however, the losses fall on the manufacturer who supplies the machine and who employs an expert to handle it.

The earnings of some of the aviators at the recent Boston meet are: Ovington, $11,782; Milling, $6,200; Sopwith, $6,022; Grahame-White, $5,224, etc., down to Ely, $150; and others with no winnings at all.

At Nassau, Sopwith won $4,850, while Atwood and Lieut. Arnold won only a few hundred dollars.

There are other sources of revenue, however, in the actual flying of aeroplanes.

Passenger carrying at $25 to $50 a head is becoming customary in this country. In England and France, regulation booking offices have been opened where recreation can be made, the price is from $10 upward.

Manufacturers and aviators also make a considerable charge for instruction of pupils. In France, $150 is the usual price for a full course, if breakages are to be included, the Voisin company charges $500.

At many aerodromes in England, where their location seems to be definite, hangars and the privileges of the field may be rented at $500 a year. The rent of the hangar in France is about the same.

The business of aviation is thus

BRAVE MISSIONARIES OF ROCKY LABRADOR

Moravian Evangelists Transform Forbidding Coast Into Christian Territory

The only parallel to the sufferings of the Moravian early missionaries on the Labrador coast which history furnishes is the pathetic and sublime struggle of the Jesuit Fathers, against the Indians and starvation in the beginning of the French regime in Canada.

The Moravians have had no Parkman and as their own gifts appertain to practical husbandry rather than to literary accomplishment their story is but little known. But all over the world—in Alaska, in Tibet, in Africa, Nicaragua, Labrador, and the West Indies, the Moravian church has its outposts.

Its labors reach strange races whose very existence is known but little if at all to the world at large. Tibetans, Esquimaux, and Indians—hunters, tillers of the soil, shepherds, and fishermen, swamp-dwellers and mountaineers have all been gathered in the simple faith of the Moravian Brethren, who, starting from Hornum, in Saxony, have gained the goodwill and help of the churches of many countries.

As these missionaries never advertise themselves, references to their work seldom find their way into the newspapers, but far and wide, on the shores of heathenism are set the light-houses of the Moravian Brethren. Silently and steadily they do their work, the extent and scope of which they alone know. Nowhere is this work more interesting than in Labrador, where in six stations scattered over some 500 miles of coast, bitterly barren, they live a life of heroism and devotion to their cause.

In 1759 a Moravian named Erhardt, having visited a successful Moravian settlement in Greenland, petitioned his bishop to be allowed to found a similar one in Labrador. In his letter he says: "I have also an amazing affection for these countries, Indians and other barbarians, and it would be a source of the greatest joy if the Saviour would discover to me that He has chosen me, and would make me fit for His service." The end showed that John Erhardt, though not chosen for service, was given the higher glory of martyrdom. Two years later he landed with four other Brethren near the present site of Nain, or as some maintain, at Ford's Harbor; and, after building a house for the mission, was treacherously murdered by the, till then, apparently friendly Eskimo.

"Indeed at this time the Eskimo had a villainous reputation, for the contemporary governor of Newfoundland describes them as 'the most savage race of people in the whole continent of America.' Yet within a few years another devoted missionary pioneer, Jens Hagen, having prepared himself by acquiring the Eskimo tongue, set out for Labrador, and it is interesting to learn that the great Captain Cook, who was at that time engaged in the first Admiralty survey of those waters, received him on board his ship and aided him forward on his travels. Labrador was not easy of access in those days, but at length Hagen met with the Eskimo, and, landing alone among them, was accepted as a friend, and in due course of time the mission was established. Since then the work has not been allowed to languish.

From the very outset the mission stood between this people and partial, if not entire, annihilation. In 1773 we find a naval officer who had been sent to Nain to report on the mission writing: "By means of this laudable society, a herd of barbarous savages are in a fair way to become useful subjects." Of the missionaries he declares: "Shielded by virtue, they find the protection of arms unnecessary." Such was the first service rendered to the Eskimo by the Moravians. Slowly the savages became tamed, and war, cruelty, and murderous reprisals passed away from the Labrador for ever. It is to-day, thanks to the Moravians and the Deep Sea Mission, of which Dr. Grenfell is the head, the most God-fearing coast the writer has ever visited.

Then followed halcyon days. But as the years went on the Brethren had to face a more insidious enemy of their people than war could have been. Fishermen and traders began to push farther up the coast, and the evil influences which civilization of that kind carries with it threatened the settlements, once more the missionaries arose to save the Eskimo. They demanded grants of land in the vicinity of their stations. This request was looked upon with idiotic suspicion; but the society stood firm, and finally gained the day.

And now all along the bleak and forbidding coasts of Labrador the traveller on rounding some barren headland, or after threading a hundred miles of narrow channels between a maze of island and the sea, comes upon a Moravian settlement built among the rocks of some little bay lipped by the Arctic current and backed by huge bluffs—a wooden church with a pointed spire, a long dwelling-house two storeys high, mostly white-faced and red-roofed, and about this nucleus a gathering of discolored Eskimo huts, which grow ever ruder in make and material the farther one advances towards the north.

The three southern stations, Mak-kovik, Hopedale, and Nain, are framed during the brief summer in the green of luxuriant mosses and in dwarf, hard-grown woods of the spruce and juniper; but Okkak, with its church and hospital, lies exposed under the dark mountains. Hebron is beyond the timber limit, as is the most northerly station of all, Killinek. This last 'ultimate outpost' of the Moravian Brethren, is, in spite of its neat church, mission-house and store, a dreary spot, with an average temperature much below freezing-point, the home of clouds, squalls, and sunless days. The buildings seemed tossed down at random in the 'month' of a deep gully of naked rock. Yet the spot is the resort of numbers of Eskimo, many of them heathens, who find it a good fishing place for walrus, white whale, and seal. Killinek is the last-founded station of the Moravian Brethren.

To live among savage races; to endure bitter winter cold, the long, bleak days of spring, the pest of mosquitoes and flies which destroy the pleasure of summer; to remain cut off from the world for the greater part of the year, visited, as in Killinek, by one ship annually; to give of strength and time generously to the ignorant and the ailing; to remain far from home and children for intervals of ten to fifteen years until the memory of the homeland must surely be as a dream; to meet with ingratitude—and, still worse, with misrepresentation—these are heavy crosses; but all these things count as nothing; all are included in the splendid self-sacrifice of the missionary life. Can any other show a finer record?

FAN TAN DURING

SCHOOL CHARGED

Eleven Chinese, Bone Buttons and Horrible Atmosphere Fill Police Court

Magistrate Jay is busy to-day trying to separate the ethics of Chinese education from those of fan tan, and before him with seats in the rear of the court are eleven Chinese who allege that they are scholars and not gamblers and that they yearn for light on the meaning of mysterious English words, and had no knowledge of the use of other than for trousers of the three or four hundred bone trouser buttons which the police found beneath the floor of the room over Hong Lee & Co.'s mercantile store, Government street.

As a game fan tan is simplicity itself. The buttons are heaped on the table, a tea cup is placed over them and drawn away. The contents beneath the cup are then counted in four. When the last count is made the dealer will pay one, two, three, or four, according to the number of buttons remaining. Previously the gambler has placed his money on numbers one, two, three, or four, which are marked on the table. He is paid or loses accordingly.

The police discovered the buttons and three bamboo sticks with nicely turned points that might be used in the counting process. They found the tea cup, which is sometimes substituted by a brass bowl or other vessel, and they found three oilcloth table covers. All these things might be used for gambling, but the police did not discover the numbered mat necessary to play the game. They brought along a small bundle of Joss papers used for burning at graves of the departed, and had in court seven smooth pieces of wood which were found on the floor by one of the tables and which might, so the police believe, be used by the dealer in a fan tan game to sit upon and raise him above the level of the others taking part in the game.

Inspector of Police Thomas Palmer, who headed the police in the raid, heard bells ringing as he and his fellow law enforcers made their way through Hong Lee & Co.'s premises, and when they reached the top of the stairs they found the door locked. "It was quieter than a school," he said. He thought the Chinese had been gambling and were ready for the police, having been warned by the bell-ringers. The inspector admitted that the Chinese must have made a fairly quick cover up because the police did not allow much time to elapse in hurrying upstairs and bursting open the door. On entering the schoolroom were calmly seated around the tables with school books, newspapers and slates, intent on study. The atmosphere of the police court this morning from the wet clothing of the Chinese and their odoriferousness became unbearable. The city prosecutor said he might faint before night unless the court was cleared of its multifarious smells. The magistrate had the windows open and had a hundred Chinese were ordered out of court and told to go down Chinatown and get work. They, however, left the courtroom in the atmosphere behind them, and the ventilation combined with the hot stove, proved a combination nearly as bad as the rolling of a ship. Those who did not have to stay quickly got out, and the regulars who line the rail morning after morning out of idle curiosity, soon went into the streets.

A. W. Curtis and F. Clark were charged with speeding. The two ac-

F. D. MACRAE FACES CHARGE OF MURDER

Will Be Placed on Trial at Cornwall Before Mr. Justice Sutherland

Toronto, Oct. 24.—The autumn assizes opened at Cornwall to-day before Mr. Justice Sutherland. There are four cases in the criminal docket, including that of F. D. Macrae, late reeve of the township of Lancaster, who is charged with murder, he having, it is alleged, shot and fatally wounded W. Shaw of Carp, Ont., on July 1. Mr. Macrae has been incarcerated in the county jail since the first week in July and despite his years and nervous temperament he has stood the ordeal well.

George Tate Blackstock, K. C., of Toronto, is crown counsel. The Macrae case was an odd one and from the evidence given at the coroner's inquest, it would appear that both the accused and late Mr. Shaw, who was a druggist in the employ of Dr. Magee, were about the least interested of all parties mixed up in a squabble regarding the possession of a child.

Macrae had remained at home at the request of his brother, D. C. Macrae, who had been notified from Ottawa that his son-in-law, Dr. Magee of Carp was on his way with a party to recover possession of his child. Dr. Magee and his wife did not agree very well on religious questions and she left him last May taking with her their infant son, and making her home with her father, Mr. Magee, who was a Methodist before marrying Dr. Magee, who was a member of that denomination. They did not live together very peacefully after the birth of their only child. It was on the occasion of Dr. Magee's second attempt to recover the child that the shooting occurred.

The doctor, along with his brother, William Shaw and a Talmesville constable named Uren, drove in a motor car from Ottawa and entered D. C. Macrae's home and searched it in vain for Mrs. Magee and their child, who were hiding in the field.

D. C. Macrae at the inquest swore that Uren held him up in his own house at the point of a revolver. F. D. Macrae, who is accused of killing Shaw, drove the party away by threatening to chop the tires off their automobile with an axe.

Afterward he secured a forty-four calibre rifle and the crown claims that he fired at a retreating party and shot Shaw in the back. Shaw died six days later in Cornwall general hospital. Dr. Magee blames the tragedy on the "Ne Tremere" decree.

It is proposed to pave Rithet street between Menzies and South Turner street, and to construct boulevards on both sides, under the local improvement plan, and motions to this purpose will be moved at the city council meeting this evening.

At the weekly meeting of the Epworth League of the Metropolitan Methodist church last evening Mayor Morley spoke on the "Ethics of Good Citizenship," but did not touch on anything of a political or controversial character. There was a good attendance.

An interesting meeting of the Women's Missionary Circle will be held (D. V.) in Emmanuel Baptist church Sunday school room at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. A special thanks offering will be taken up. A cordial invitation is extended and it is hoped a large number will be present.

In the county court yesterday Judge Howey of Westminster, who relieved Judge Lammiman for the trial, convicted Alfred Deakin of having stolen a cow at Port Renfrew. Accused was allowed out on bail under deferred sentence pending an appeal being made on a stated case. The accused was previously tried and found guilty by Judge Lammiman but a new trial was ordered by the higher court.

In order to provide for the lighting of Government street during the weeks of the Christmas trade, the chairman of the electric lighting committee, Alvan H. M. Fullerton, will move for the cost of a temporary system of festoon lighting on the street between Humboldt and Herald streets, to bridge the time till the electric system will be in operation. It is proposed that the city shall pay the cost. The matter will come up at the meeting of the city council this evening.

THE McNAMARA TRIAL

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 24.—Two talesmen were examined and allowed to go in the first ten minutes of the McNamara murder trial to-day. Counsel, through lessons of the preceding weeks have learned, they said, to ask at the start the questions most likely to disqualify a talesman from serving on the jury which will try the case.

The first two men released to-day were Emil Rambaud, excused because of a possibility that his working knowledge of the English language would be insufficient and, Charles F. Binder, who is not on the county assessment roll and therefore is ineligible.

The examination of F. J. Mullen, the third talesman up, gave promise of lasting longer, preliminary lessons seemed to indicate that he was a good possibility. Among the lessons learned by counsel is that it is a waste of time to examine a man for a day or so and finally learn he is firmly opposed to the death penalty. This has happened several times and beginning to-day this question was one of those put early in the examination.

at first on a very close decision, Mathewson to Merkle. It was a pretty play by Mathewson. Murphy attempted to steal home, but Barry missed the ball and Murphy was run down by Meyers unassisted. Barry made an infield single. The ball rolled along the left field base line, Mathewson and Herzog waiting for it to roll foul but it stopped on the line. Thomas fouled to Meyers. No runs, two hits, one error.

Third Inning.
New York—Devore flied to Oldring. Doyle hit a high one between home and third which Baker took care of. Snodgrass hit a bouncer to Barry and was out at first. The centre fielder rounded first base and was hoisted by the crowd in the bleachers. He walked to his position. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Bender was thrown out at first, Fletcher to Merkle. Lord hit the first ball to right field for a single. He was forced a moment later. Fletcher to Doyle on Oldring's grounder. Collins struck out on three pitched balls. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning.
New York—Murray flied to Baker. Merkle, after fouling a half dozen times, struck out for the second time. Herzog bunted for a first, but was out by Davis unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Baker doubled to left center. He was given a great cheer. Baker scored on Murphy's double. The stands and bleachers went wild. It was one and one, a man on second and none out. Murphy scored on Davis' double to right. The cheering, which began when Baker made his two-bagger continued for several minutes. There was a conference and Marquand and Ames began warming up. Davis reached third on Barry's hit to Herzog.

Barry was out at first. Davis scored on Thomas fly to Murray. This put the Athletics in the lead, three to two. Bender was out at first on a pickup and throw by Fletcher. It was the prettiest play of the game thus far. Three runs, three hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning.
New York—A wonderful pickup and throw of a slow grounder by Baker retired Fletcher at first. Meyers drove the ball to right field for two bases. On a short passed ball Meyers attempted to make third, but was out on a beautiful throw, Thomas to Baker. Mathewson was given his base on balls, the first of the game. Devore raised a fly to Lord and was an easy out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Philadelphia—Lord was out at first on an easy one, Merkle to Mathewson. Herzog made a pretty stop of Oldring's hard grounder and got the runner at first. Collins drove a single to right field and Baker came to the plate. On the first ball pitched he hit to right-center for a double, scoring Collins. Baker took third on the throw-in. Murphy struck out. One run, two hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning.
New York—Doyle was given his base on strikes. Snodgrass was called out, not hitting at all since the ball on Murray's foul fly to Baker. Doyle was doubled up at first. It was a very stupid play by Doyle and was partially due to bad coaching. Barry was partly responsible for the play, as he made a bluff to scoop an imaginary grounder. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Philadelphia—Herzog made a sensational pick-up of Davis' hard grounder and got the runner at first. The New York third baseman was given a great hand. Snodgrass misjudged Barry's long fly and the Athletic shortstop was credited with a two-base drive. Barry reached third on Thomas' hit to Fletcher. Thomas died at first. Herzog threw Bender out at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh Inning.
New York—The Athletics had hit Mathewson for ten hits, while the Indian had held New York to four. Merkle struck out for the third time. Herzog lifted a high fly to Oldring and down. Fletcher drove a ball, single to centre. Chief Meyers was an easy out. Collins to Davis. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Philadelphia—Fletcher fumbled Lord's grounder long enough to allow the batter to reach first. Oldring placed a pretty bunt down the first base line. He was out, Merkle to Doyle. Collins bunted and was out by Merkle, unassisted. Baker again stepped to the plate and there were cheers for him to knock the ball over the fence. Four wide ones in succession were given to him and he walked to first. Murphy drove a hard grounder to Merkle, and was out. No runs, no hits, one error.

Eighth Inning.
New York—Becker went into bat for Mathewson. Becker was thrown out, Collins to Davis on an easy chance. Devore drove a beautiful single to left, and Doyle stepped to the plate. Doyle hit to Collins, forcing Devore at second, Barry getting the putout. Baker fumbled Snodgrass' grounder and the runner was safe at first. Murray lifted a high foul which Baker took care of. No runs, one hit, one error.

Philadelphia—Wilts went into the box for the Giants. Davis was the first man to face the New York left-hander. He was retired on three pitched balls. Barry double to right, forcing a run on Fletcher's muff of Murray's return of the ball, which was a trifling high, Fletcher not being able to reach the throw. On Thomas' hit to Herzog, Barry was run down between home and third, Herzog getting the putout. Thomas went to second on the play. Bender out to Merkle, unassisted. No runs, one hit, one error.

Ninth Inning.
New York—Merkle doubled to right. Herzog went out on a grounder, Baker to Davis. Merkle taking third, Fletcher lifted a fly which Collins took care of. Meyers stepped to the plate. He was out on the first ball pitched, Collins to Davis. No runs, one hit, no errors.

CENSUS CRITICISM

Immigration Branch Explains Methods Adopted in Tabulation

An answer to the charge that a loose system of immigration is responsible for big discrepancy between the actual census figures and the eight million estimate is made by the immigration branch of the department of the interior at Ottawa.

First of all, it is contended by the chiefs of the immigration branch "that our figures are not open to fair criticism until there is handed out by the census bureau a compilation showing the places of birth of the seven million odd who have been counted."

The immigration count is made at ocean ports and at points on the international boundary. In the latter case by officials going through the trains. At ocean ports, manifests of the number of passengers are furnished by the steamship companies. These manifests are checked by the immigration office and only those entering Canada for the first time and declaring that they intend to stay in Canada are counted as immigrants, either at ocean ports or at the boundary. No record is or ever has been kept of the number who, after declaring their intention of remaining in Canada, cross the border into the United States.

The United States immigration returns for last decade places the total immigration from Canada at 250,000. From 1897 till this year 1,567,558 passengers entered Canada at ocean ports, of whom 1,236,099 were counted as immigrants.

In the census of 1911, the immigration population of Canada was placed at 597,923 and in 1911 at 609,318; although the immigration for the ten years showed 335,548 arrivals. In the next ten years the arrivals increased to 388,177, but in 1911, the immigrant population was returned at 617,382. In the ten years to 1901 there arrived 240,234 immigrants, but the immigrant population in 1901 census totaled only 684,671.

According to the immigration department, a large number of Italians—who come into Canada do not stay, but go back to Italy after obtaining a small competency. Of seven thousand Hindus who entered Canada last year, 3,500 went to the United States. In the case of Chinamen, Canada imposes a $500 head tax, while in the United States there is total prohibition. Canada gets the head tax, while in a number of cases the United States gets the Chinamen.

WOMEN JURORS PROTEST.

Objection to Men Jurors Smoking Pipes During Deliberations.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 24.—The women voters' council yesterday memorialized the county commissioners for relief from the inconvenience caused women doing duty of jurors by men of the jury who insist on smoking their pipes in the jury room.

Jeane Towner in "The White Sister."

Live, nervous, play and act, and woven into a strong romantic drama in F. Marion Crawford's tale, "The White Sister," in which Viola Allen achieved her greatest triumph last season and which is announced for tomorrow evening at the Victoria theatre with the American beauty, Jeane Towner, in the stellar role and a cast of sterling actors supporting her. Liebler & Company produced the play originally in New York city, where it made an immediate hit, which was duplicated in Chicago and endorsed by the leading play centers in the country. Messrs. Morrison and Ward have acquired the rights to the play from Liebler & Co. and are presenting Miss Towner in a production fully as complete and handsome as the original.

Attendant upon the visits of the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir are benefits that are, both directly and indirectly, incalculable in their value in more ways than one. Foremost among these is the inspiration of the music—an inspiration that awakens talents and pleasures which were hitherto dormant in the listener; and once awakened, these attributes will make an incessant demand upon the individual affected to cultivate his talent and to assuage his craving for the higher pleasures of life. The general musical education disseminated by the ladies' choir is also of such a kind that will permanently benefit the general public, musical and otherwise. To music, concert, given by the Welsh ladies is just like slipping a notch in the wheel of musical progress. One needs not persuade the really musical man or woman to go and listen to the choir, but it is the duty of every musical Canadian to persuade the indifferent public to go and hear the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir whenever it comes their way. They owe that much to art and education, and to the ladies who sacrifice the love of home to tour in a distant land for the love of art. Encourage your friends to hear this most wonderful singing party at the Victoria theatre on Thursday.

"The Third Degree." Miss Franklin Gale, who will be seen in Charles Klein's "The Third Degree," at the Victoria theatre, Friday, October 27, is the daughter of an army physician, who for many years has been stationed at Port Hill. Miss Gale tells an amusing story of an incident which occurred a few weeks ago when she was paying her father a hurried visit. "One of the children of an Indian brave," she said, "was taken ill with a fever and father saved it. The brave came to father's office the afternoon I reached there, and asked what he was to pay. He seemed much distressed when he was told there was no bill. 'Must give some pay,' he protested. 'You take my pony.' 'No, father couldn't use any more horses and wouldn't think of depriving him of his only means of traveling about. After a long pause the Indian came back with 'you take my squaw.' Father had to decline, but he was careful not to offend the buck's delicacy. Silence again while father went on writing at his desk, while I wondered what would come next. Finally the brave made a final attempt. 'You want somebody killed?' He went away sadder than ever when father politely declined this last mark of gratitude. You could never convince me that an Indian is ungrateful after that," concluded Miss Gale.

WIRELESS ACROSS CONTINENT.

Vallejo, Cal., Oct. 24.—The Mare Island wireless station, which on September 26 broke the daylight record on this coast by talking with Unalakleet, carried on a conversation with Washington, D. C., early yesterday. The Mare Island operator heard Key West, Fla., calling Cape Cod, and West, Fla., calling Cape Cod, and Key West it was answered by Washington. The operators were changing weather reports when interference ended the conversation. Mare Island talked last year with Key West, 2,700 miles distant.

Port Leavenworth, Kas., Oct. 24.—A wireless conversation between naval stations at Colon, Panama, and Key West, Fla., was caught here at a small private station maintained by J.

New Arrival of Thomson's Glove-Fitting Corsets

In announcing the arrival of these popular Corsets, we beg to express our regret at the disappointment to the many ladies who have waited for these goods, also to state that we have now a complete stock of the usual numbers, also some new lines.

We are this week again demonstrating the Thomson Glove-Fitting Corsets, and shall be pleased to receive a visit from ladies who would be advised on the correct adaptation of the corset to the style of gown worn.

STYLE GRAND DUCHESS, U.—This is one of the latest models for medium and stout figures, made from imported striped material with reinforced front and double wide front steel, also double rust-proof steeling throughout. We recommend this corset, knowing it to be perfectly satisfactory in every way. Six strong hose supporters, medium low bust with long hip, and the new medium back. Price, per pair $6.00

STYLE 311—This is specially for slender women, made of satin cloth, low bust and extreme long hips, and is beautifully boned and finished throughout. Has few gores, but giving a perfect hipless effect, which is so much desired. Price, $5.00

STYLE 190—For medium figures, in strong, fine coutil trimmed insertion and ribbon. Made in high and low bust with the princess hip. Is a splendid wearing corset and will give perfect satisfaction to the wearer, and is moderately priced at $2.50

STYLE 270—This model, a very fine one for slender or medium figures, is made from striped coutil, medium low bust, long hips, with six hose supporters. The lines in this corset are extremely good, giving that perfect shape desired by women who study the present fashion. Price $5.00

STYLE Q—This is another model for tall, stout or full figures. Made of strong coutil, wide front steel, and reinforced front. Has good lines and is a splendid wearing corset. Price $3.75

STYLE 32—Made of fine batiste with low bust and long hip. A good hard-wearing corset, well made, with strong steeling rust-proof throughout. Price, per pair $1.75

STYLE 89—Same as style 32, with high bust. Price $1.75

A complete range of less expensive Corsets always in stock, also all accessories. Juniforms, juniform bust forms, Dorothy forms, shirt ruffles, H. & W. bust form Corset, Brassieres.

"FUNNY MAN" WANTED.

To the Editor.—In our town council there has been a "long felt want" of anything bearing the slightest resemblance to sparkling wit, repartee, dry, or even bubbling humor, without which every assembly, except a funeral, is bound to be a failure. Instead of this graceful art of satire and defence so much in use in the British Commons (when they are not boxing), our council waste the weary, dreary hours looking tomahawks, and lowering in the chair in the language of the Times, "devouring him with their eyes."

LIGHT HATS AID THE BRAIN.

That the undeniable improvement in the mentality of the up-to-date woman is due to the decrease in weight of her stylish headgear is the conclusion that Dr. George W. Galvin of Boston has reached after careful study. Dr. Galvin's researches have been conducted along scientific lines, and the results seem to indicate that the lightness of the hats of the last three seasons has aided considerably in allowing woman to "use her head" literally and figuratively. "The heavy hat formerly in style," says Dr. Galvin, "caused a disturbance of thought by pressing upon the nerves of the scalp."

AT A FOREIGN "CURE."

What a Miserable Dyspeptic Who Takes the Waters Is Up Against.

Writing of his experiences at a famous foreign haven for people who for years have dined not wisely but too well, a Londoner says: Your misery begins at 6. At 6 o'clock they call you and you are expected to be shaved and decent before you face the world of waters and of miserable sinners at 7. If you had not been a miserable sinner, too, you would not be here; but you have done those things you ought not to have done and you have left undone those things you ought to have done, and your penalty is Carlsbad. So you take your place at the end of a queue 300 dyspeptics long and wish you were dead. You very nearly are, for no "morning tea" sustains you; they forbid that; it is strictly against the law; you take your turn to the "Sprudel" spring uncomfortable by the cook. A German close behind you is treading on your heels and breathing hours looking tomahawks, and lowering in the chair in the language of the Times, "devouring him with their eyes."

"If time is money," it should not be impossible to calculate approximately what Victoria has lost during the last two years by private animosities between the Mayor, aldermen and officials. To elevate the tone of the town council what is really wanted is a brilliantly witty "funny man" as crowd out more important information in the daily press. "REPARTER."

and a girl in waterproof overalls catches you a glassful by means of a long pole. Then you retire to a corner with the evil brew and try to drink it. It tastes of dead rats—hot ones, long dead. Your character may be divined by method of dealing with it. It may be faced as one faces a pet beverage, "with an air," or it may be dilled with in slips—or thrown away. It may beat you altogether, but this is rare. The hardened dyspeptic who does his yearly "cure" has a trick with a little glass pipe. He is initiated by the wise. After the first full glass you hurry to the little glass pipe for your very own, and half an hour later you brace yourself together for the second dose. If you have sinned deeply you may be ordered even three, but probably you will be left off with two "gases" of Sprudel and one of something lighter. An hour afterwards you may have an inadequate meal of sour milk, an egg and a brown roll that would baffle a dentist. During the morning you will be required to undergo a bath, possibly of mud, reeking with curative properties and very expensive—as expensive as the lunch you would like to have afterwards if they would let you. Even as it stands, your mockery of a meal, fruit, rice and a bit of broiled bird, climbs up to a total hitherto associated with such elementary insufficiencies. At 4 o'clock you drink more water. At 10 the long day closes with a final gulp, and the dinner intervening is beneath the dignity of words—of any words.
